Special Yuletide Services Slated by Area Churches

Final Touches Given to Worship Plans

Menlo Park churches were this week putting the finishing touches on plans for this year's observances of one of Christendom's most significant holidays, the anniversary of the birth of the Saviour.

While at most homes in the area less formal plans were afoot the significance of the day would not be lost; church officials throughout the city predicted that capacity crowds would attend the special rites now being arranged.

Some of the city's several congregations have revealed plans to concentrate the Yuletide observance on Sunday, Dec. 22; others, particularly those with larger congregations, have scheduled several services in order that all parishioners may attend.

SPECIAL RITES SET AT TRINITY EPISCOPAL

At Holy Trinity Episcopal church, Ravenswood avenue and Laurel street, observance of Christmas will actually start Saturday evening but will be climaxed with services Christmas Eve and Christmas day.

The Christmas eve rites will be in the form of a Festival Choral Eucharist service beginning at 11 p.m.; featured will be the senior choir of the church.

On Christmas day, a Holy Communion service will be held commencing at 8 a.m. and a Festival Choral Eucharist service,, featuring the junior choir, will be conducted at 10 a.m.

The Episcopal church's seasonal observance starts Saturday evening, when members of the parish will convene for the singing of carols.

On Sunday, Dec. 22, children of the church are urged to bring appropriately wrapped gifts to church school, for transmittal to the Canon Kip Community Center, situated in the "South of Market" area of San Francisco.

SUNDAY SCHOOL RITES AT UNITED PENTECOSTAL

Members of Sunday school classes of the First United Pentecostal church, 690 Creek drive, will present their annual Yuletide program Sunday evening at 7 p.m.

The Rev. Cecil Brackett, pastor, will preach a special Yuletide meditation on Sunday morning; there are no special services set for Christmas Eve or Christmas day.

MASSES CLIMAX ACTIVITIES AT CHURCH OF NATIVITY

A High Mass at midnight Christmas Eve and special masses throughout Christmas morning will climax seasonal activities at the Church of the Nativity, Menlo Park's oldest place of worship.

1.7 Inches:

RECORD RAIN

Rainfall here during a 24-hour period ending at 4 p.m. Sunday was the heaviest since the December, 1955, storm and the heaviest to be registered in five years.

So reported Richard Polese, operator of Boy Scout Troop 104's weather station near Hillview school, who said 1.7 inches fell between Saturday and Sunday. Polese has been reporting temperature and rainfall figures for the Recorder since 1952.

The December, 1955 storm — which resulted in evacuations of several homes in west Menlo Park, and a disastrous flood in Palo Alto, saw a rainfall of more than two inches in a 24-hour period, Polese recalls.

Police Warn Against Mixing Holiday Spirits

With holiday time at hand, Menlo Park and Atherton police were once again on the watch for people who might somehow get their "holiday spirits" mixed up.

Officers in both towns have been given instructions to be especially watchful for drivers whose reactions appear to be slow. This may save lots of trouble in the long run, the chiefs warn.

"The driver who's had a couple of drinks before he slides behind the wheel of his car can be more of a menace at this time of year than most," warns Menlo Park Police Chief George Potter.

"With stores open at night, traffic heavy, and pedestrians crossing streets while finishing Christmas shopping, there are more hazards abroad than usual.

"Add to this the possibility that rain can make streets slicker and stopping more difficult, and you have a potentially dangerous situation."

Chief Leroy Hubbard of Atherton has a residential town, but he pointed out that this is no reason for his officers to relax.

"We have a highway through here and some motorists might lose a few inhibitions and try speeding home after a couple of drinks just for Christmas fellowship," he said.

A MESSAGE GETS TO SANTA

THEY'RE PRETTY BUSY at the postoffice these days. Evidence of this arrived at the Recorder office last week, when this envelope, with a Blue Chip stamp in its corner, arrived after going through the local stamp-cancelling machine. This wouldn't have happened if more people had mailed their Christmas cards early. The Recorder, which is in close touch with Happy Holly and Santa Claus, forwarded the epistle to the North Pole—with a 3-cent stamp.

'Extremely Pressing':

School Trustees Press Study Of Classroom 'Overcrowding'

Menlo Park School District trustees this week agreed to seek a method of "getting the facts into every home" after learning that there are at present 22 overcrowded classrooms in the schools under their jurisdiction.

They ordered District Superintendent Dr. Melville Homfeld to seek such a means of communication after hearing a voluminous report, which pinpointed overcrowded class rooms and substandard units in which youngsters are receiving instruction.

And they asked that "all possible avenues" of alleviating the district's continuing shortage be studied, since, as one trustee put it, "it's evident we're not going to get any more space before the fall of '59."

Besides the 22 overcrowded classrooms being used, 10 in World War II hospital barracks at Stanford Village and three rooms in area schools which were not designed for regular classes.

The Superintendent's report said conditions are "extremely pressing" in the district.

There are five overloaded class rooms at Fremont, six at Encinal, five at Oak Knoll, and six at Hillview, the report said.

"Overloading" means there are more than 25 children in a Kindergarten through third grade classroom or more than 30 in a fourth through eighth grade classroom.

"We consider this a reasonable maximum for any regular classroom," said Dr. Homfeld. He said that the district's 22 classrooms are "demanding attention."

According to the report, a music room and testing room at Encinal plus a homemaking room at Hillview are being used as regular classrooms.

"These facilities are needed for their intended purposes," said Dr. Homfeld. "We need three classrooms to take their places."

OTHER NEEDS

He said the district also must replace the 10 rented classrooms in Stanford Village's Laurel School with "regular, permanent facilities. Laurel's classroms simply aren't adequate," said Dr. Homfeld. "They are cramped, and wiring resirictions keep lighting at a minimal level."

The superintendent's report indicated that the classrooms shortage will cause unusual scheduling and overloaded classrooms again next year unless a solution is found.

"Every time we have to juggle scheduling or move families to compensate for lack of space, somebody is unhappy," he said.

Dr. Homfeld said enrollment at the end of the third month of school totalled 2,419—an increase of 29 students over the same period last year.

Pioneer O'Keefe Dies, 93

Funeral services are to be held today for James T .O'Keefe Sr., dean of San Mateo county's bar and a resident of Menlo Park for longer than anyone except his twin brother, who survives.

O'Keefe died unexpectedly Monday at a Belmont rest home, where he had been staying for the past 2½ years. He would have been 93 on Tuesday.

Yesterday, as members of the San Mateo county bar gathered for memorial services in Superior Judge Aylett R. Cotton's court at the Hall of Justice in Redwood City, members of the family released the names of six pallbearers who will assist at today's rites.

James O'Keefe Sr. and his brother, Dennis, were brought to the Menlo Park area during infancy by their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Michael O'Keefe. The father was a wheat grower here for several years, but later turned to land development.

As youngsters, the twins attended the first school in Menlo Park, which was conducted at the Church of the Nativity.

James O'Keefe Sr.'s legal career spanned more than half a century. In 1906 he was the first attorney to conduct a case in the then-new county courthouse in Redwood City. In 1956, when the new hall of justice opened, his son and law partner, James T. O'Keefe Jr., Menlo Park's city attorney, conducted the first case there.

Presiding in both instances was the same judge, Superior Court Judge Cotton.

Both twins were graduated from St. Mary's College, which was then in San Francisco, in 1884. They were the oldest living graduates of that institution at the time of James O'Keefe Sr.'s death.

NEWSPAPERMEN

In 1893 the twins acquired ownership of the county's first newspaper, the San Mateo County Times-Gazette. The paper had been established in 1857.

Dennis O'Keefe continued to edit the paper until 1933, when he retired and the paper was sold to the Redwood City Tribune.

In the early 1900's James O'Keefe Sr. moved to a house at El Camino Real and Glenwood avenue. He remained there until the 1940's, when he removed to a final residence at 1541 University drive.

Like his father, the deceased later participated in land development, at one time in the 1920's owning a tract near Bayshore highway, south of Willow road. O'Keefe street in the Willows area is named after him.

James O'Keefe Sr. was also instrumental in legal aspects of the incorporation of Menlo Park, which took place in 1927. The city did not have an attorney at the time and much of his labor was on a voluntary basis.

Those who will serve as pallbearers at James O'Keefe Sr.'s funeral today are:

John D. Tuttle, long-time Menlo Park resident and currently a supervisor with the regional postoffice in San Francisco.

Harry Sullivan, a close friend.

All Paved and Ready:

City Council Studies Offer of Lot For Additional Commuter Parking

A parking area near the Southern Pacific Railroad station, priced at $15,750, was offered for sale to the city this week by Edward J. Derry.

Derry, making his offer before the city council last Tuesday evening, said the lot, which is 160 feet on the east side of Derry lane and 20 feet on Oak Grove street, will accommodate 20 cars, is paved and ready for use. The offer stands for 30 days, he said, but will be extended if the council desires.

Mayor William R. Lawson advised Derry that the council would take the offer under consideration, but that no action could be taken on it until the Jan. 14 meeting.

Derry paved and prepared the lot for parking some months ago, according to assistant city manager John Johnson, and then offered to rent car space for five dollars a month to commuters who use the S.P. system.

The council admits that there is a parking problem at the station and will study the Derry offer at the same time they consider another parking area which is for sale to the city. Derry's offer amounts to $750 a parking space.

Derry operates a feed and fuel business at 630 Oak Grove avenue in Menlo Park.

School Trustees Seek Decision On Unification

Menlo Park School District trustees, noting a "renewed flurry of activity" in discussion of possible unification of all schools in the Sequoia High School District, this week called for further discussion among themselves before committing the district for or against such a measure.

An augmented committee of the County Committee on School District Organization is to meet at 8 p.m. Jan. 9 at the city council in Redwood City's city hall.

Mrs. Mary Klein has served as the Menlo Park district delegate to the committee, which will be augmented by all school trustees in the Sequoia area, for the purpose of the Jan. 9 gathering.

Though admitting the present proposal is different from those junked two years ago, Menlo Park Board Chairman James Black observed that he, personally, "didn't like the trend toward greater centralization." He called it a "worrisome situation."

Menlo City Clerk Suffers Minor Heart Attack

Mrs. Margaret A. Becker, Menlo Park's city clerk since the early 1940's, was hospitalized Tuesday morning, after suffering a minor heart attack Monday night. Mrs. Becker, 73, resides at 1235 Laurel street in Menlo Park.

She was described as "doing very well" by hospital attendants yesterday.

She and her husband, Frank S. Becker, have lived here since 1921.

She was at her home when stricken.

Siren Sounds Tomorrow in CD Alarm Test

Three minutes of fluctuating tones from all emergency sirens in the area tomorrow at 11 a.m. will mark a test of the efficiency of civilian defense warning devices throughout the south.

Menlo Park Fire District and the Menlo Park Civil Disaster Council workers will be spotted through their areas of coverage, to find if the present warning devices are adequate.

Assistant City Manager John R. Johnson, who is secretary for the CD council, said that police officers on patrol will also aid in monitoring the sirens.

For the Menlo Park Fire District, Chief George Carter pointed out that his agency has sirens only at East Palo Alto and headquarters stations. A siren at the Menlo Park Veterans' Hospital will also be sounded, though, so coverage of most of the city's areas should be good.

Portions of west Menlo Park are in range of the Stanford Fire Department's siren on campus and some parts of North Fair Oaks and Atherton are in range of Redwood City warning devices, Chief Carter said.

The test here is part of a general bay area alarm check. Persons who do not hear the sirens are urged to call the fire department, DA 3-2404, or Johnson's office, DA 5-3211.

Archbishop Okays New Sanctuary For St. Raymond's

Preliminary plans for a 900-seat sanctuary for St. Raymond's church have received the approval of Archbishop John J. Mitty, it was announced this week by the Rt. Rev. Mons. Edwin Kennedy, pastor of the parish.

Date of start of construction of the church, which will face Santa Cruz avenue west of Arbor road, cannot be announced yet, Monsignor Kennedy said.

This awaits the formation of a lay committee to oversee the raising of funds for the project.

Monsignor Kennedy added that such a committee would be formed shortly after the first of the year; the fundraising itself is expected to continue through March.

Civic Center Gets New Switchboard

A new switchboard serving the entire civic center will go into operation early next week.

The unit, situated in the police department, will have seven trunk lines; these will have numbers DA 5-3211 through DA 5-3217—the same phone numbers used now for contacting various departments of city government.

Assistant City Manager John R. Johnson said this week that the police department's number will remain the same, DA 5-3216, for the next several weeks.

Sequoia Board to Hear Report On $7.7 Million Program Jan. 8

Revised figures on what it will cost the Sequoia High School District to maintain its present instructional program will be presented to the district's board Jan. 8, District Superintendent Dr. Rex Turner reported this week.

He said that architects are currently studying a $7.7 million figure submitted to the board last week, on the basis of recommendations of the district's lay citizens' advisory committee.

Dr. Turner pointed out that figures contained in that estimate were several months out of date, and that building costs might be up in some cases.

After reviewing the figures, Dr. Turner said, the district board will transmit them to the citizens' group for reappraisal. The advisory committee is to meet Jan. 15 at the Sequoia High School library.

Dick West heads the group at the present time but a new chairman is also to be named at the January meeting.

Santa's Real:

Bike Thief Bows to Holiday Spirit

There is a Santa Claus.

Nine-year-old Peter Damsgaard, who may have had doubts about when his bicycle was stolen the day before Thanksgiving, is a little more certain about it now, since the vehicle has been returned.

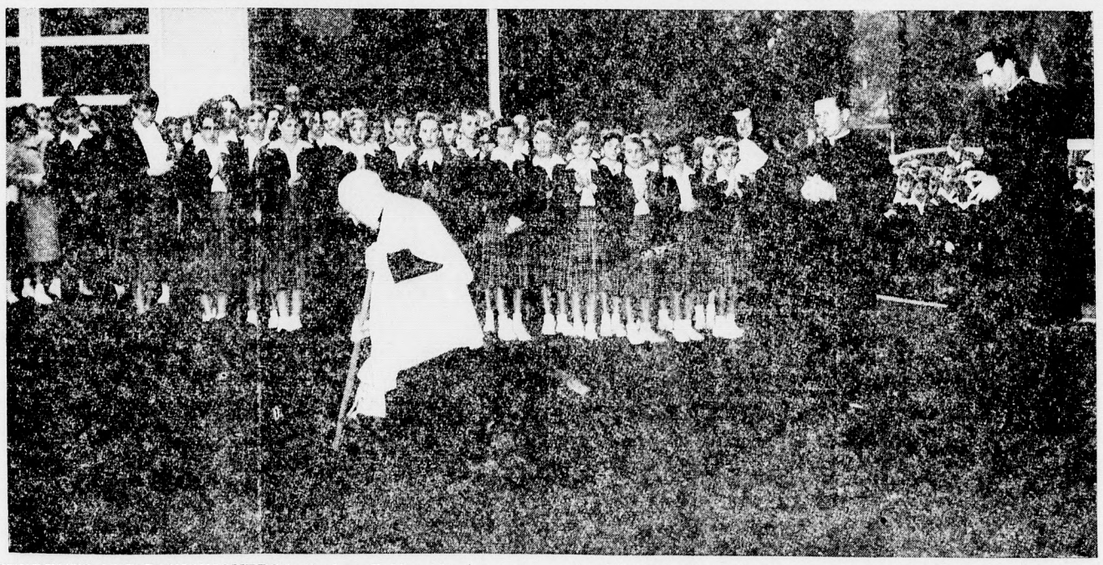

It was the last gift Peter ever got from his father, the late Bent Damsgaard, who died Nov. 23. This was reported in the Recorder Dec. 5.

The police got the bike back for Peter last week—and it's licensed now, so it's less likely to be taken again.

Officers say they found the bike abandoned. They add that Peter's neighbors and fourth grade classmates were a great help, because the watch they maintained probably had something to do with persuading the thief to leave it where it could be found. The bike wasn't damaged, either.

Police aver, however, that they're sure Santa had a lot to do with the recovery.

SCHOOL STUDENTS WATCH AS PASTOR TURNS EARTH

STUDENTS AND PARISHIONERS looked on Friday afternoon as the Rev. Thomas McKeon, pastor of Church of the Nativity Parish here, officially broke ground for a convent which will house the faculty of Nativity School. The building, adjacent to the Nativity School facing Laurel street, will cost $90,000 and will house eight teaching members of the Order of the Presentation, and a principal from the same order. Nativity Parish Breaks Ground for New $90,000 Convent Here

Groundbreaking rites, marking the start of construction of a $90,000 convent to house the faculty of Nativity school, were held Friday afternoon at the Laurel street and Oak Grove avenue.

The Rev. Thomas McKeon, pastor of the Nativity parish turned the first shovelful of earth to mark the start of the building, which is expected to be completed within the next six months.

The project is the first of two being undertaken by Church of the Nativity parish, under the present building program. A multi-purpose building to serve the school and the parish is expected to be started in the near future.

When completed, Father McKeon said, the convent will house eight teaching sisters and a principal for the school. All will be members of the Order of the Presentation, which has been assigned to the school here.

At the present time, Nativity School has six classes — one on each grade level—in session. This will be extended to eight grades as the present sixth graders advance, Father McKeon explains.

At the present time, there are three sisters in residence at the school. The other three members of the faculty are members of the laity.

The new convent, of two-story design, will be of an architecture harmonizing with the school.

John Feleiano of Santa Rosa is the architect and John Presley of San Jose is the contractor.

Chamber Greets New Menlo Park Business Heads

Officers of the Menlo Park Chamber of Commerce today greeted leaders of two new business establishments in Menlo Park.

Al Giannotti, Chamber president, was to carry the organization's greetings to members of the staff of the western division office of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, moving into temporary offices at 845 Santa Cruz avenue today.

Permanent offices are under construction at 830 Santa Cruz.

Lisle Berkshire is manager of the office.

Also being greeted today are members of the staff of the MacFarlane Candy Co., at El Camino Real and Menlo avenue. The candy company opened this week.

Time for Clearing Out:

'Lost and Found' Collections Large at Menlo District Schools

School closes for the Christmas holidays tomorrow and so the day marks the last occasion on which parents can rummage through "lost and found" collections before the new year.

The collections are pretty extensive. They consist mostly of clothing, but also included are all the items that are to be found in small boys' pockets.

At Oak Knoll School, for instance, the large box containing "lost and found" items is kept in Principal Richard Johnson's office.

"Ususually we keep reminding youngsters to come and get their stuff all during the year and, just before school is out, put it on display on tables in the multi-purpose room," Johnson explains. "What isn't picked up is usually sent to Korea or donated to charity."

Thus far this year, the Oak Knoll collection has come to include some jewelry of indefinite value and several watches, too.

There doesn't seem to be much of a relationship between age of children and the things they leave behind. Older children seem just as bad as the smaller ones.

This latter fact is confirmed by Ray Cruikshank, vice principal at Encinal School and in charge of the "lost and found" there.

TELLS FATE

"The big kids sometimes take off a sweater or coat while playing outside," Cruikshank explains, "and when it gets dark or they're called back to class, they forget about it.

"Usually, the garment winds up in lost and found."

Cruikshank's main lost and found "bank" is a clothes rack at the back of his office, but non-clothing items have to be taken care of, too.

These include charm bracelets, some rings, pens and pencils, and similar items.

A few oddities are to be found, too, such as the single earring which somehow wandered onto the school grounds.

"One earring isn't really much good to anybody," Cruikshank observes. "Also, even our eighth grade girls don't usually wear such items to school."

'Largest' Candy Store Opens Here

Opening its doors here today, at El Camino Real and Menlo avenue, is the largest drive-in candy and ice cream store in this area and, according to reports, west of Chicago.

It's MacFarlane Candy Company's newest unit, occupying a 3000-square-foot store in a building completed this summer. The new outlet will have 200 feet of counter frontage, and a normal staff of seven.

More than 260 varieties of candy regularly will be carried.

The large corner lot occupied by the candy company was purchased by MacFarlane's last summer, on the basis that it is in the geographical center of the mid-Peninsula. The building, just completed, will house MacFarlane's and six other stores. Total investment, according to MacFarlane, is in excess of $170,000.

Mrs. Nellie Thomas of San Mateo has been named manager for the unit here. She has been with the MacFarlane organization for six years and was manager of the chain's outlet at the Grant Market in San Francisco before being transferred here.

Candy for the Menlo Park outlet will be manufactured at the companys' Oakland plant.

The MacFarlane company has specialized for more than 25 years in supplying candy to a "home" trade. Although box candy is available in large assortments, selling in "paper bag" lots, for home consumption, is featured. Result is a lower cost per pound to the average customer.

Menlo Park was selected for the new candy store, MacFarlane reports, not only because of its favorable geographic position but also because it is in the center of a "high buying power" area.

"We have made this our largest store because we feel the Peninsula hash unlimited growth potential," MacFarlane declared.

Woman Injured In Crash Here

Mrs. Tillie Haskins, 36, of 850 Cambridge avenue, was treated for abrasions to the left leg and hip and then released from Palo Alto Hospital Sunday, in the wake of an auto crash at El Camino Real and Middle avenue.

She was a passenger in an auto driven by Jimmie E. Millikan, 27, which, police said, became involved with an auto operated by Robert V. Reeves, 57, a janitor at Menlo School and College.

Police said Reeves was making a left turn from the highway's north bound lanes, and that Millikan was southbound at the time of the crash, 6:04 p.m.

Before traffic had been cleared following this mishap, autos operated by Miss Marilyn R. Wilson, 18, of Mountain View and Gordon Pusser, 27, of Palo Alto collided at the same intersection in an almost identical manner. Miss Wilson was attempting the left turn.

The average California farmer uses 47,000 kilowatt-hours of electricity as compared to the national average of only 6000.

RECEIVES AWARD

NEW YORK, N. Y., December 9—Allan R. Moltzen (right), representing the Citizen's Committee of Ravenswood City School District, shown accepting the silver plaque from Dr. Lawrence G. Derthick, U.S. Commissioner of Education, denoting the 1957 Far West Regional Award for his community group's efforts. The presentation took place at the annual award dinner of the B.V.D. Community School Improvement Award Program, at the Waldorf-Astoria, Monday night, December 9, 1957. The award to the East Palo Alto community group was presented for their project "Report Card Study." Moltzen will present the plaque to the committee tonight as the group meets in the Ravenswood district's board room at 2160 Euclid avenue, East Palo Alto.

Dr. Kerensky Says:

Russia Was Making Good Progress Toward Democracy Before '17

The Russian people were the first victims of the totalitarian movement which swept Europe after the First World War and even today, 40 years later, the Bolshevik government "doesn't dare" give them freedom.

These were some of the thoughts expressed by Dr. Alexander F. Kerensky last Saturday, as he spoke to more than 80 high school students, meeting for a Junior Statesmen of America conference at Menlo-Atherton High School.

Dr. Kerensky was Prime Minister of Russia from July, 1917 until the Reds took over in the revolution of October of that year.

He described the October, '17 revolution as a "catastrophe" which cut short the growth of freedoms of Russia's people — a set of liberties which had been emerging for a century and which were being achieved with greater speed after the revolution of 1905.

"Lenin," Dr. Kerensky observed, "fully understood the psychological and political consequences of 'peoples' total wars, even when he was in exile in Switzerland."

And later, Dr. Kerensky said, Adolph Hitler himself summarized the totalitarian view of democracy when, in 1923, he said that he "despised" democracy but would use democratic institutions as a means to kill off democratic forms of government.

Dr. Kerensky addressed representatives of JSA groups from seven high schools in the area including Menlo-Atherton, Camden, Lincoln, Carlmont, Fremont, James Lick and Willow Glen.

STARTED YOUNG

Only 37 years old when he was head of the Russian government, he has been associated with the Hoover Institute of War, Revolution and Peace at Stanford University for the past several years.

"It was the aim of Russian government, from the 1890's until 1917, to establish a democratic government," Dr. Kerensky explained. "This movement got added impetus with the revolution of 1905.

"It was not a completely barbaric country before the Bolsheviks took over; it was progressively changing.

"After 1905 we had universal suffrage. There was freedom to read, and to discuss.

"Even the ownership of land was gradually changing and by 1917 54 percent of the country's lands were owned by the country's peasants."

There is "no comparison," Dr. Kerensky emphasized, between the freedom that prevailed in Russia before the Red Revolution and that which is allowed today.

"You can't find an example on which to base such a comparison.

"The Bolshevik regime became milder after the death of Stalin but after the Hungarian revolution, the country's leaders appear to have gone back to the more rigorous control of the country.

LOST FREEDOM

Dr. Kerensky said that the present Russian regime gives less freedom and liberty than "even the most backward" of the 19th century czars.

After 1905, he said, the country's progress toward democracy was speeded not only by the people and the intelligentsia, but by the ruling class as well.

"The reforms we were achieving were not only the work of the czars, but the result of public pressure as well," he pointed out.

It was true, Dr. Kerensky went on, that was not as free as the United States or England.

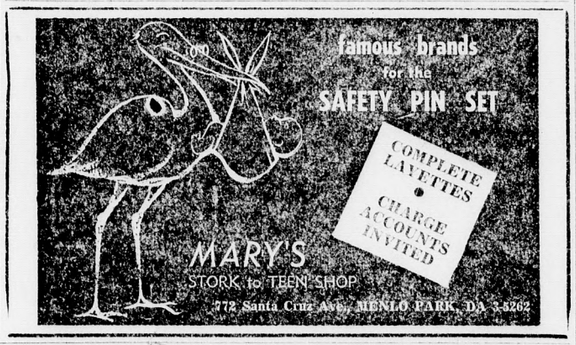

"But we were making progress, in the normal evolution of democracy of the Old World. We were moving from absolute monarchy to constitutional monarchy, to republicanism."

The provisional government which he headed, Dr. Kerensky said, because it had to deal with "an explosion of monarchy in the middle of a tragic war" coupled with the need to "reconstruct from the war's loss, while fighting a "totalitarian idelogical dictatorship."

In 1922 the same ideology took over in Italy and in 1933—15 years after the Bolshevik revolution, it took over in Germany."

Dr. Kerensky pointed out that even Hitler became a dictator through legal means. He was voted into office by a majority of the people.

In the world-wide market, California cotton is considered a standard of quality because of its uniformity and high tensile strength.

Police Problem:

City Protests Cardroom Permit Across Street from Belle Haven

A request for help by the Belle Haven Improvement Association in blocking the issuance of a card table permit at an establishment on Willow road was unanimously passed by the Menlo Park City Council this week.

John M. Brockman of 1355 Sevier avenue, representing the association, appeared before the council Tuesday to present the formal protest of his group to the petition before the San Mateo Board of Supervisors. The Board will consider the card permit request on Jan. 7.

Brockman said that anything of this type is detrimental to the community and that the location of the club at 1213 Wilow road is a particularly poor spot. Not only is this an area at which teenagers congregate, Brockman continued, but it is a shopping center, a school crossing and a naturally congested area.

He pointed out that there is already some trouble at the location and that shoppers on occasion have been insulated by loungers.

He said that card games are now held there, either illegally or with the authority of a temporary permit.

Mayor William R. Lawson said, "I am opposed to any such permit on my general knowledge of the situation and the information presented by Brockman."

Councilman Ira Bonde pointed out that the council should arrive at a decision at the present meeting because if a consideration were delayed until the Jan. 14 meeting a recommendation to the Board of Supervisors would be too late. Councilman Mike Belangie and Vaile S. Andrus were absent from this meeting due to ill health.

The council passed a motion by Bonde that a letter be sent to the Board of Supervisors protesting the issuance of a card permit and requesting that a thorough investigation be made of the complaints received.

Mayor Lawson said that he would also ask the police department for a report of the situation, although the area is out of their jurisdiction.

Brockman told the council that East Palo Alto also objects strongly to the permit as it would affect their community as well as the Belle Haven area. 1213 Willow road is actually in East Palo Alto.

Both the improvement association and the group from East Palo Alto would be glad to aid the council by submitting a petition or in any other way they could Brockman added.

Menlo Scientist Gets New Grant

Dr. Walter C. Brown, chairman of the division of science and mathematics at Menlo College and a research associate at the natural history museum at Stanford University, will continue his researches concerning the ecology of amphibians and reptiles for another three years.

The continuation of the study has been made possible by a research grant from the National Science Foundation. The program, as in the past will be conducted in cooperation with the biology department of Silliman University in the Philippines.

Dr. Brown began the project in 1954-55, when serving as lecturer in zoology at Silliman, under the auspices of the United States Educational Foundation.

WHAT'S DOING

R. R. Maloney, your Telephone Manager for Menlo Park

Every so often I'll pick up a newspaper and read how telephone people have helped save a life somewhere. First aid instruction (above) deserves a lot of credit for this. For years we've been teaching our people first aid. Special courses like this are a part of their telephone training, under our continuing Safety Program. Our people have found that the safety methods they learned on their telephone jobs have proved mighty helpful when away from work. We think it makes good sense to have everyone well-trained in case of emergencies. Everybody's better off that way.

Christmas Thoughts

As the weeks before Christmas become days, and then hours, the thoughts of people across the nation and throughout the world turn to their loved ones. We in the telephone business are at the pulse, and we too, thrill to its ever-increasing throb, as merchants intensify their demands across the land for more Christmas supplies, as servicemen call from state to state, arranging for leaves to visit their homes, wherever they may be, as mothers and fathers, sons and daughters forget their problems, and turn hearts and minds toward each other. When the day comes, and we are opening our gifts, going to our churches, visiting friends, and sitting down to dinner, the telephone bell will ring and a pleasant voice will announce, Chicago, or New York, Alaska or South Bend calling. On this Christmas Day, more than ever before your long distance operator is on the job to "preserve the cause of Human Freedom." The men and women of Pacific Telephone join in wishing you all a Very Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

A KNIGHT BEFORE CHRISTMAS

A Knight, before Christmas, crossed over the moat
And into the castle a bag he did tote.
T'was chuck full of gifts---such beautiful things:
A stuffed dragon's head complete with smoke rings,
A full suit of armor, new knells for the bells,
A home-magic kit with guaranteed spells.
"Gadzooks!" quoth the King, "Where'd you get the cash?"
"I'm a wise buyer, sire" the knight said in a flash.

At Jan. 8 Meeting:

Sequoia Board Will Reconsider Naming EPA, Woodside Schools

Sequoia High School District trustees on Jan. 8 will reopen consideration of names for district schools in East Palo Alto and at Woodside road and Alameda de las Pulgas.

The subject is being reopened at the request of residents of Woodside; it has not been placed on the agenda by the trustees.

Dr. Rex Turner, district superintendent, said that interest in the schools' names has become manifest only since the board decided to designate the East Palo Alto plant "University" high school, and the Woodside plant, "Toyon" high school.

He recalled that during several months when the board was seeking nominations, only a quarter of one percent of the voters of the high school district showed enough interest to suggest names for the two schools.

Since then, he said, evidence of interest has grown to the extent that the Jan. 8 meeting will have to be held in the Sequoia High School library; it is expected those protesting the present designations would overflow the district board's regular meeting room at 480 James avenue. The meeting starts at 8 p.m.

* * *

Using the "provincialism" which attaches to Menlo-Atherton High School as a basis for their action, Sequoia High School District trustees last week declined to name new plants in East Palo Alto and near Woodside for geographical areas.

Instead, they named the East Palo Alto plant University High School, implying its nearness to Stanford University and they named the plant on Woodside road Toyon High School, after a berry-growing shrub common to this area.

Board chairman pro tem Mrs. Helen Kerwin pointed out that, when attendance area boundaries of Menlo-Atherton High School are changed, protests usually contain the contention that the school is for "Menlo Park" and for "Atherton."

Actually, she said, the attendance boundaries have to be shifted periodically to assure the best possible education for all students in the district and whether or not city boundaries have to be crossed to effect this is not a problem of the school district's board.

Mrs. Kerwin said that overcoming provincialism was the primary factor; such matters as the possible confusion of names of the elementary and high school in addresses being sent through the mails, was secondary.

The arguments for all school names which had been suggested in a recent mail poll were brought forward by representatives of the audience, one of whom liked the Woodside name.

Homfeld to See Resources Meet Called by Army

Menlo Park School District Board of Trustees Tuesday granted permission for Superintendent Melville J. Homfeld to attend a two-week National Resources Conference in Fresno, Jan. 12 to 25.

The conference, sponsored by the Industrial College of the Armed Forces, Washington, D.C., is designed to give key civilian and military leaders "a condensed course in economic mobilization." The 200 conferees will study subjects ranging from the history and rise of Communism to the food potential of the United States.

Major Ralph N. Dane, unit adviser of the Mind-Peninsula Army Reserve, Mountain View, said 16 such conferences will be held throughout the country this year.

"Its emphasis will be on the problem of gearing up our nation's military-industrial potential and gearing up our nation'smwmwp closing the gap between us and the Soviet Union."

Dr. Homfeld is a reserve officer and members of the 351st Military Government Headquarters, Sixth Army Reserve.

Not Firm Yet, but:

$7,673,000 Cost Seen in New 10-Year Sequoia Program

All the projects believed necessary when the Sequoia High School District sought passage of a $3,860,000 bond issue in October, plus enough new ones to bring a total cost of $7,673,000 have been requested by the Sequoia Citizens' Advisory Committee.

So reported Dr. Rex Turner to members of the district's board of trustees last week. He said he was not recommending the new high figure as the final one for a bond issue objective, at this time.

He said he would prepare more accurate figures recommending a time and amount for the district's next bond issue.

And Mrs. Helen Kerwin, board member from Atherton, pointed out that even if a bond issue is passed next year, all bonds will not be sold at the same time. They will only be sold as the district needs them.

Basing his estimates on recent recommendations of the Citizens' Advisory Committee, Dr. Turner foresaw the following expenditures:

A total of $3,503,000 for a 2000-student school to be built west of San Carlos and Redwood City; $201,000 for additional classrooms at that school; $201,000 for 10 additional classrooms at Carlmont.

$324,500 for a gymnasium at the districts' fourth high school, the Toyon High School at Alameda de las Pulgas and Woodside road; $325,000 for a gym at University High School, the district's fifth plant, now under construction in East Palo Alto.

$375,000 for the site of the proposed sixth school; $400,000 for the purchase of an eighth school site west of Redwood City; $940,009 to increase the capacity of Toyon High School from 1300 to 2000 capacity and $1,030,000 to increase the capacity of the 1170-student University High School to 2000.

Dr. Turner said that $500,000 should also be included for contingencies.

The funds would be used over a 10-year period, Dr. Turner said. He added that, owing to limits in the school's bonding capacity, it would be five years before the last of the bonds can be legally sold anyhow.

X-RAY REQUIREMENT

Chest x-rays for noncertificated members of the Menlo Park Elementary school district staff were made mandatory by district trustees Tuesday night. Under the ruling, such personnel have to be x-rayed at least once a year. A similar provision for certificated teachers is already in effect.

Threat to Youth:

'Mr. Big' in Jail, but Police Still Look for Marijuana Here

Law enforcement officers are continuing their investigation of possible use of marijuana in the Belle Haven and East Palo Alto areas, in spite of the fact that the "Mr. Big" of dope distribution in the area was convicted last week.

The "Mr. Big"—so described by Inspector A. L. Lamport of the San Mateo County District Attorney's office—was Louis A. Jackson, 32, who was arrested Oct. 15.

He was found guilty of two charges each of possession and sale of narcotics, in a jury trial concluded Friday before Superior Court Judge Frank Blum.

His arrest followed several months of investigation by Menlo Park and county law enforcement officers.

At the time, Menlo Park Police Chief George Potter said Jackson "would sell to anybody," and hinted that these might include juveniles.

Since the arrest, Potter declared this week, no evidence of use of marijuana by the area's young people has been turned up. This does not mean, he adds, that the police department can ignore the possibility that marijuana from other sources might not make its way into the area.

Jackson was arrested during the course of an all-night cleanup of suspicious characters, in the vicinity of Willow road and Newbridge street.

Arrested at the same time was Travis Saunders, 34, who was convicted of narcotics charges last week.

Jackson's arrest was made on the basis of a warrant obtained by local officers in advance of their round-up.

On the basis of Menlo Park evidence, both men were found guilty; the jury which heard Jackson's case spent only an hour deliberating.

Sentencing of both Jackson and Saunders awaits the filing of a probation report with Judge Blum. Penalties could range as high as 10 years.

Drapery Shop Opens Here

Open this week at 1428 El Camino Real is Pat's Carpets and Draperies, bringing a complete line of these items and 17 years of experience to the Menlo Park area.

"We are interested in serving the community, regardless of the size of the job," explains Manager Bob Bienvenux, selected to operate the store. "We can give a complete line of items from a shower curtain to draperies for an entire house, and each will receive strict and careful attention as to selection."

Bienvenu, a resident of Los Altos, had worked in the east coast and Chicago areas, before moving west.

He is a member of the VFW, American Legion, American Rifleman's Association, and the Druids.

Owner of the store is Ceco Johnson, a resident of Sunnyvale and himself an experienced retailer. The store will feature a line of more than 400 carpets from which selections can be made, in addition to the drapes.

PTAs May Be Called to Aid Study of School Curriculum

Parents of children in the Menlo Park Elementary School District will be asked to give their own evaluations of the district's curriculum, it was decided this week.

Menlo Park School District trustees, who have played to small audiences whenever they've set discussion of the actual things children are being taught, decided that either the citizens' advisory council or the district's PTA's could organize such a study better than they could.

Trustees agreed that members of the district's Citizens' Fact-Finding Council should draw up a program.

Mrs. John Shedd, however, reported from the audience that a recent forum program sponsored by the Oak Knoll School PTA had had considerable success. The fact finders, she said, appeared to feel they were tied to a study of the school district's needs insofar as facilities and land are concerned.

Trustee Mrs. Mary Klein observed that she thought the PTA coordinating council would be the logical medium through which to pass the word, on any forthcoming studies of the school district's curriculum.

District Superintendent Dr. Melville Homfeld said he greeted the proposals "with joy and thanksgiving."

"After all," he continued, "the schools belong to the people. The only way an educator can be sure he's doing right is to let people know what's going on in the schools."

As We See It:

Foot-in-Mouth Disease Afflicts High School Naming

Like most of the residents of the Sequoia Union High School District, we did not pay too much attention to the naming of the district's fourth and fifth high schools — on Woodside road and in East Palo Alto.

Perhaps this was evidence of lack of civic interest, a failing we constantly condemn in others. But on the other hand, there seemed little cause for excitement . Two perfectly logical names had been suggested: "Woodside" and "Ravenswood." With such suitable tags at hand, it never entered our head that any others would be chosen.

Suddenly we learn that the schools have been officially named Toyon High and University High! Along with all the other tardy citizens of the district, we leap to the battlements!

Our protest is not only that "University High School" is a misnomer, misleading, meaningless and a contradiction in terms. Nor is it only that "Toyon High School" is an ineffectual title totally lacking in spark or spirit.

Our greatest disagreement with the board's action lies in their own reasons for not accepting the names of Woodside and Ravenswood.

Trustee Mrs. Helen Kerwin voiced objection on the grounds that schools named for geographical areas tend to develop a provincial attitude in the minds of local residents. She cited Menlo-Atherton as an example and decried the fact that residents of Menlo Park and of Atherton have come to regard it as their own. This, she pointed out, causes difficulty when the board is forced to adjust attendance boundaries.

Such difficulties we cannot deny. But such difficulties, we venture to suggest, can never be overcome entirely, and they are insignificant when compared to the benefits — to the board and to the community — that accrue from a feeling of loyalty, belonging and pride.

Such benefits are tremendous, at the practical level as well as in a theoretical sense.

Without a sense of loyalty, the school board could expect much less support than it gets now . . . and it certainly can use all it gets! A recent district bond proposal was defeated because too many district residents did not take the trouble to go to the polls. Without personal — "provincial," if you will — pride in "our" schools, the turnout would have been even smaller.

Therein lies the practical value of loyalty and personal interest.

In the theoretical sense, such local pride is the basis of our democratic way of life. If we all were to feel that we were merely part of a large, anonymous governmental unit, there would be almost no civic interest and no control by the people over their local affairs. Without such local interest and control, this nation would lose it strength of purpose, the dedication to individual rights that always has made us strong.

We are proud to regard Menlo-Atherton as "our" school. We have called it that many times, and it is in large part this personal feeling that will make us do all we can for its welfare . . . and for the welfare of the district of which it is a part.

Call Menlo-Atherton "Sequoia No. 2" and you'll dilute that feeling. Give the East Palo Alto school a ridiculous handle such as "University High" and you'll go far toward eliminating any pride and loyalty that might have been developed.

"Woodside" and "Ravenswood" are good names, obvious names and names that mean a great deal in the history of our area. Let's play up local pride; let's encourage our area residents to regard their high schools as the focal point of the community!

Chamber's New Manager Has Worthwhile Job to Do

The Recorder is happy, in behalf of the community, to welcome Jack Flynn to his new post as executive head of the Chamber of Commerce of Menlo Park.

No stranger to the area, Flynn has devoted many years to this community through his work with the Boy Scouts of America. In his new position he faces a great challenge and a tremendous opportunity to carry his civic effort into broader fields.

The Chamber of Commerce is more than a commercial club dedicated to building business in downtown stores. It is a flywheel for the community, a central control tower serving to guide and encourage community effort in all fields.

Without a strong man at the executive controls during the last few months, the chamber showed just a how important it is, for during that period there has been a lack of direction, a listlessness of effort, a flagging of spirit.

With support of the chamber membership, we know Jack Flynn can set the Chamber of Commerce back in motion, to channel the spirit that is here into action for the benefit of all.

Local Events Prove There Is a Santa Claus

If Santa Claus is regarded as the real spirit of Christmas — that selfless love of fellow men that swells the heart each year and makes this season the special time it is — then Santa Claus is certainly getting around in Menlo Park these days.

It's not the busy shoppers, the Christmas carols, the decorated homes and the tinsel that convince us so much as the little events that almost go without notice.

The letter to Santa that went through Uncle Sam's mail with a Blue Chip stamp is one example. The fact that 9-year-old Peter Damsgaard got back his stolen bike, the bike that was the last gift from his late father, is another. And on all sides there are little things happening to prove that the Christmas spirit is real.

With gratitude for all our blessings and for the love of God that makes this spirit possible, we wish you all a Merry Christmas!

TELLS US:

Newest unpaid member of the staff of the Menlo Park Fire District is an owl.

He spends his nights sitting on top of the drill tower at headquarters station at Middlefield road and Santa Monica avenue, watching for nocturnal beasties who he can convert into midnight snacks.

Firemen don't know whether the owl is good at giving fire alarms or not. He just hoots occasionally, apparently for his own satisfaction.

Presumably, he eats gophers. Firemen think this is what he eats because the trees they planted around the perimiter of the station are growing fine.

A hawk, who used to handle the gophers and who roosted in the trees on St. Patrick's Seminary property, had to be sent away because he got preoccupied with baby quail.

* * *

It was cold last Thursday night, and especially so in the cavernous multi-purpose room of Woodside School where the Town Council holds its monthly meeting. There is a heater, the blower kind, the noisy kind, not exactly conducive to holding a quiet meeting.

"Would you rather hear the heater or the council?" asked Mayor William Lowe of the audience. "The heater!" is was agreed, and the mayor did his best to shout above it. Not for long. Even the coldest shiverers preferred to shiver in order to hear what was going on.

* * *

Menlo Park Police Department Clerk Mrs. Lillian Hanley is sporting a brand new string tie these days.

And furthermore, she holds to an allowance of 50 cents per day.

She got the neckware from a roving newspaper reporter who wandered into the station last week.

The reporter said he thought she should have a black tie, so she'd look "uniform." Mrs. Hanley agreed, but said she only had 50 cents.

The reporter said that was enough.

Mrs. Hanley said she didn't know how to tie a string tie.

The reporter said that was okay; the tie was one of those fake "ever ready" jobs that clips onto the collar.

So Mrs. Hanley got the neckwear and the reporter shambled off to invest the four bits in a parfait.

Mice may not get into the Christmas spirit, but they sometimes get into Christmas packages.

This was found out Tuesday by Mrs. Barbara Wildman, 13 Greenwood place, when she received a Yule gift package from Chicago.

The package had been well wrapped when sent. But in transit, one of its corners appeared to have been torn.

Mrs. Wildman looked at this corner. She thought maybe she'd be able to tell what was inside the stout outer cover.

And as she looked, a confused mouse, who probably got aboard some place in the middlewest, scurried out of the hole and up Mrs. Wildman's arm.

Mrs. Wildman was still a little shaken, when the Newshound interviewed her a half hour later.

Municipal Report:

Fire District's 'Unlucky Area' Dramatizes Value of Prevention

Menlo Park Fire District Chief George Carter has his opinions as to what are the two unluckiest blocks in his agency's area, and he has a couple of statistics to prove it.

The "unlucky" blocks — during the past five months, anyway—are the 3300 and 3400 blocks of El Camino Real in North Fair Oaks. There have been four fires there in the last five months, and the total damage has run to an estimated $70,000.

Chief Carter is philosophical about this.

"It's coincidence," he says.

Newspapermen and statisticians are inclined to agree, on the basis that there seem to be definite cycles in various categories of emergency events.

The unlucky star—or whatever it was—started shining July 12 when a warehouse at 3315 El Camino Real went up in smoke. Nobody had been around the building after 5 p.m. and the fire wasn't discovered until after 9 p.m., so the flames had a good start by the time firemen were called.

The blaze consumed a large collection of home appliances and other articles which had been destined to be sold as commercial surplus. Damage was estimated at $30,000.

But here, as in the case of many fires, an exact cause was hard to find.

On Oct 29 Tin Pan Alley, long a sort of landmark at 3401 El Camino Real, took off in flames. This one like the previous one—resulted in some $30,000 estimated damage.

Third unfortunate building to be damaged by flames was an interior decorating shop at 3423 El Camino, which got into the firemen's records only a week ago Friday.

The firemen think this $10,000 cinderation job was caused by an electric heater, left on in a bathroom of an apartment at the rear of the shop.

Meanwhile, in August, the burned-out shell of the warehouse damaged in July again caught fire, and this time there wasn't enough left standing to worry abouh. The remains were torn down.

While admitting that accidents happen and that coincidence placed all these fires close together in space and time, Chief Carter points out that all of these fires probably could have been prevented.

It's for this reason, he says, that the district concentrates on fire prevention education.

District officers making regular calls to business establishments, in search of hazards.

Also, whenever possible, the firemen try to contact youngsters at the schools in the district.

Another avenue of approach is through the newspapers; at several seasons of the year, such as Holiday time and before the Fourth of July, the department issues special warnings, designed to alert people to the unusual dangers of fire of those seasons.

The least expensive way of dealing with fires, Chief Carter declares, is to keep them from happening.

Walter Needs:

A F(R)IEND

Walter the Weathermouse was sniffling slightly, as he slowly shambled in.

"Nobody (sniff) likes me, I guess," he said.

"Tush," we replied, in the conciliatory manner we usually save for small children who have fallen down, "that's not so. And besides, what makes you think so?"

"Well," snivelled Walter, "I thought I'd get better acquainted with Newton the Newshound, so I asked him, 'If you're a watch dog, what time is it?' and he snarled at me."

"So would we," we said. "What then?"

"So in a strictly friendly way I asked, 'If you're a police dog, where's your badge?' and he made the most horrible noises I've ever heard."

25 Years Ago:

'Serra' Highway Location Was To Be Decided

The files of the Menlo Park Recorder reveal that, 25 years ago this week, the following items, here reproduced exactly as first published, were news in the young community:

December 23, 1932:

"At a hearing held last evening in the Las Lomitas school house it was agreed that the San Mateo county planning commission should proceed at once with the planning of the West Menlo Park section. Final location, involving straightening, widening and extension of the Alameda de las Pulgas, is to be undertaken in order that a direct connection by means of that foothill road may be given between the Junipero Serra boulevard and San Francisco and the Stanford campus.

"Property owners of West Menlo Park opposed further extension of the Catholic cemetery on Santa Cruz avenue, about three miles from this city . . ."

LEGION FETED MENLO'S ORIGINAL SCOUT TROOP

"Members of Boy Scout Troop No. 107 of this city were the guest of honor at a Christmas party given for them by Menlo Park Post No. 443, American Legion last night in the Legion hall on Oak Grove avenue.

"Parents of the scouts, members of the legion and its auxiliary were in attendance and a program of scout stunts was enjoyed by all. The local troop was organized along about 1925, with L. E. Harris as its scoutmaster and has been a big factor in the city's civic life ever since. The troop is today one of the finest in the county."

County Comment:

Grand Jury Still Has a Couple Of Bites Left for Officials

By FLOYD M. McCUE
Editor and Publisher, Redwood City Star-Advertiser

As the year draws to a close, courthouse officials are keeping their fingers crossed as the county grand jury prepares its final report for submission to Superior Judge A. R. Cotton.

Not for many, many years has a grand jury created such a mess as the present one. It has attacked officials from the board of supervisors on down. That their criticisms have been inspired from previous run-ins with some of the officials can hardly be denied.

The jury is determined to get another "crack" at Agricultural Commissioner Max J. Leonard, one of our most capable and best liked department heads. They charge the ag chief with hiring members of his family during the war when other help was not available.

We'd say it was better to get the job done, even if it did require members of his own family to do it. The matter seems a small one, indeed, but certain members of the jury have carired the axe for Leonard for personal reasons for years. Now they are using it.

While the supervisors and county manager were completely cleared in a court action, the grand jury is expected to have new digs for these officials when the final report is released — and it comes none too soon.

Former county engineer M. A. Grant will get another word lashing and demands for court actions —all of which we will guess will be dropped.

The study of the big health and welfare department is still under way so there is no guessing what the jury will come up with as regards Dr. Chope's empire. We're quite sure it won't find the real source of irritation, that is, the surplus of employes and the complete secrecy that surrounds the social welfare department. These are touchy subjects and few grand juries have the courage to come out with the real facts.

If you remember our column of a few weeks ago, you recall reading about the proposed expansion of the county "civic center" in Redwood City.

The plans we revealed then have been disclosed in more detail by County Manager E. R. Stallings.

The idea of selling the old jail property and acquiring new blocks to the north was told then.

Plans for the new million-dollar administration building are going ahead and likely will be ready for the construction stage by the end of this fiscal year. The county is going to open its own garage to care for its big fleet of cars. Just another case of government going into business in opposition to the taxpayers.

County officials, under the guise of "economy," are more and more infringing on the business world by setting up their own departments in opposition to the tax-paying business man.

The rule is to raise the assessment on the business man so they can buy printing presses, garage repair outfits, road making equipment, painting scaffolds, etc. In that way the officials can build up bigger departments, become more powerful and spend a helluva lot more money.

Efficiency? We would like to see one concrete instance where your civil service worker affords a better service than does the individual who makes his living by giving service.

The taxpayers are getting pretty tired of watching their tax bills climb and climb, whether we can blame "local" government, the schools or the hundreds of small district assessments.

Our county officials say they have been holding the line and possibly they have to a certain extent. We question, however, the need for a new million-dollar administration building.

We most certainly question the need for so many new employes being added to the payroll each year.

Yes, we know the county manager each year trims the requests of department heads; but we're equally sure those department heads ask for twice the number they expect to get so it makes the higher-ups look good.

There is no way our tax load will level off, unless the people take the matter into their own hands. The rumblings for changes in 1958 are not all inspired by grand jury talk. With most people scraping around to get their first installment paid before the deadline just past the tax bill is more evident in their minds. It is some six months from now until budget time, and we hope the people will get aroused before that time. We're not of the opinion that a new member of the board of supervisors, for instance, can bring a tax cut.

The idea of reducing government expenditures must come from all branches. We must bring to stop the creation of new bureaus, the ever-increasing addition of new workers, and start a tightening of the purses trings generally. Do you think it possible? Neither do we, but we hope.

Animal Welfare:

Holidays Can Open Bright New Life for Some Pet

By EDNA CRANE-BURCHFIELD

Each year at the holidays, the Recorder gives me space to ride my pet hobby, "Animals as Christmas Gifts." Left on my own devices I could probably fill a whole page on this subject; however, there are limits.

First and most important: In giving an animal as a gift, be sure the recipient wants one. There is nothing in the world as lonely as an unwanted animal.

Don't go mousing around looking for a bargain—buying from kids on the street or at rummage sales. Go to your own vet, the Palo Alto Animal Shelter or your local pet shop. All three have the animal's welfare at heart and the last named is thinking of your interest as well.

Don't buy too young puppies or kittens for too young children. No baby animal should be treated as a stuffed toy—they are too little to protect themselves in the clinches. Don't give any pet to a family where all members work, or are away from home all day. The reason for that is obvious.

Give your pet the proper food regularly. Do not overfeed—especially true with gold fish.

MAKE HIM HAPPY

If a young puppy or kitten cries the first night—don't yell at him—he's frightened and lonesome. Put a loud ticking watch or small alarm clock under his blanket. It generally does the work.

Do not give a cat as a present to people who own a bird. How would you like to live in a flimsy cage with a Gengal tiger lurking around?

Keep bird cages and gold fish tanks clean. Don't bathe your long-haired dog in very cold weather. Give him a dry bath with bran. NEVER bathe a cat—he will do that himself at the rate of about six scrubbings a day. A cat is the only animal in the world that has no odor.

Before you buy your gift take him to a vet for a general overhaul.

Make sure he has no mange, sore spots or fleas. Incidentally, anyone bothered with fleas on a pet, telephone me, DA 3-9633, and I'll give you the name of a remedy that works in one or two applications. Safe on all animals.

Don't allow your pets to annoy the neighbors, and don't let the neighbors tease or abuse your pets.

Talk to and play with your pets. Have fun with them—some pets never hear anything but "Kum'ere" or "get out."

Don't give freak pets as a gag. Its extremely unfunny to receive a snake, baby alligators, or deodorized skunks as gifts. The first two are unpleasant to handle, not attractive, offensive to visitors and certainly difficult to learn to love. The skunk can be tamed, but it is a difficult pet at best, except for exceptional people.

JOY IN HOUSE

Given the proper treatment, a pet can be a joy in the house. I recall one home here in Menlo, the members of which were given a little six-months-old Shepherd as a gift to the small boy in the family. My heart sinks to my boots—the child was the only small fry in a family of adults and was understandably a little bit spoiled. The woman had a beautiful home, exquisitely kept. A shepherd is no lap-dog and I saw trouble.

I worried for nothing—when the child pulled the dog's hair, his parents pulled his. If the youngster yanked the dog's foot—he got one of his own feet yanked. It has worked like a charm. The kid is on his feet, fighting if anyone dares to hurt his dog.

If you get a pet for Christmas, good luck to both of you and long life.

HE HOPES FOR GLAD NEW YEAR, TOO—Poundmaster Lucien Lacroix of Menlo Park shows off one of the puppies currently housed at the Palo Alto Animal shelter. The pup doesn't have a permanent home, Lacroix says, but he adds that when a person buys a pet for a friend for Christmas, he should make sure it's wanted and that its home will be a happy one . He hopes, too, that that look of uncertainty will soon be gone from the puppy's face. —Recorder photo

Bayshore Overpass:

Early January Opening Planned

Bayshore Highway's nightly traffic jam in East Palo Alto will become a thing of the past in the next three weeks, as the state division of highways opens half of its University avenue overpass.

Date for the opening is between Jan .1 and Jan. 15, depending on the weather.

The one-level intersection of Bayshore and University will be closed as soon as the new structure is opened.

The half of the overpass to be opened will be the eastbound bridge; the westbound bridge will be opened later. The opening is two months ahead of the date announced for the structure as a whole.

A spokesman for the highway department said last week that construction of both units is proceeding well ahead of schedule.

Woodsiders Seek Parley on Water Service

California's biggest problem ,the aquaeous one, claimed another half hour at the Woodside council's regular meeting last week. Creed Haberlin of the North Woodside Improvement Association took the floor to explain fully steps taken by the association in dealing with California Water Service, and to ask the council for an hour's discussion of the matter at a later date.

Haberlin has advocated the town's withholding of a franchise to the utility in order to induce California Water Service to supply water to all areas of Woodside not now covered by its pipelines. The north Woodsiders have been trying for some time to dicker with the company on installation of lines north along Canada road to their area, as yet unsuccessfully.

The utility asks that residents concerned pay the costs of installing an eight-inch main up Canada road plus six-inch feeder lines and necessary pumping stations.

Estimated cost is $102,000.

Association members recognize the necessity of paying a part of the cost but feel they would be shouldering a disproportionate part of the expense in paying for the eight-inch line up Canada road since future subdividers and residents will be making use of the line without rebate to current residents.

Haberlin offered to bring 95 percent of the residents involved to a council meeting to verify the concentrated interest in the problem but this was not deemed necessary by Mayor William L. Lowe or the council.

Superior Court Judge Wayne Millington, a fellow member of the luncheon club to which O'Keefe belonged during many years of his legal career in Redwood City and a past president of the Native Sons of the Golden West unit of which O'Keefe was a member.

Mayor William R. Lawson of Menlo Park, a friend of the family and representative of the city which the senior O'Keefe helped to create.

O'Keefe was active as an attorney until after his 90th birthday, when he retired to the rest home.

During the past few years he and his twin brother, who resides at 313 Oak Grove avenue, have maintained close touch in spite of the infirmities of age. They have been together for most holidays and family gatherings during the past 2½ years.

The senior O'Keefe's death followed a relatively rapid decline in health during the past few weeks. Up to that time, he had maintained excellent condition.

He was a member of St. Raymond's Catholic church; the Holy Name society of St. Raymond's; the St. Denis council of the Knights of Columbus; Native Sons of the Golden West; Hastings Law School Alumni; St. Mary's College Alumni; San Mateo county Bar Association and the California State Bar Association.

His wife, Ellen, preceded him in death.

Survivors include the senior O'Keefe's son, James T. O'Keefe Jr., of Menlo Park, and two daughters: Mrs. Ethel Buchanan of Santa Barbara and Mrs. Marcella Law, North Hollywood. Grandchildren include Barbara and Joanne Buchanan, Patricia Law and Janet, Christine and Elizabeth O'Keefe.

Rosary was recited last evening at the Johnston and Tinney Colonial chapel, 650 Live Oak avenue in Menlo Park.

Requiem Mass is to be said at 9:30 a.m. today at St. Raymond's church; interment is to follow at Holy Cross cemetery, Menlo Park.

INTERNATIONAL TEDDY BEAR

"TOY LIFT": When D. W. Broadwater, 1944 Camino de las Robles, Menlo Park (left) was in London recently he remembered the "toy lift" organized by flight engineers of Pan American Airways' Pacific-Alaska Division, who purchased presents to be given to children in the San Francisco Bay region. So he stopped at a famous Picadilly shop and bought a teddy bear to bring back with him on the return flight to San Francisco airport.

Woodside Council Likes Its City Hall; Signs for 5 Years

The Town of Woodside formally agreed to stay in the same city hall for the next five years last week, taking an option on the building's lease for another five years.

Councilmen also appointed their second city attorney, Sherrad Davis of 991 Cotton street, Menlo Park.

Davis has been attending meetings regularly, acting for the city's first attorney, Arthur Harzfeld, whose resignation was accepted with regret by the council.

Both men are with the San Mateo law firm, Kirkbride, Wilson, Harzfeld and Wallace. Davis will be on the city payroll as of the first of the year.

Ordinances adopted at last week's meeting upgraded the William Duncan property on Woodside and Kings Mountain roads to minimum three-acre zoning from the former 10,000 square feet, and altered the boundaries of the city's District 7 to include the recent (and first) Stanford annexation of about 12 acres.

maintenance of Woodside roads during the month of October.

Resolutions were introduced in rapid succession, authorizing:

Renewal of lease for the city hall, council consent to formation of the Atherton Channel Drainage District, acceptance of the six-acre Audiffred subdivision on Miramontes road, acceptance of workman's compensation from the state for civil defense volunteers, and acceptance by the city clerk of deeds or grants conveying interest in or easement of land to the city.

The council also recommended a go-ahead on construction of a signal light at the junction of Woodside road and the Alameda de las Pulgas.

Cost of the light will be split with the state paying half, the county a fourth, and Redwood City sharing the balance with Woodside. A letter from the California Highway Patrol reported that a 25 mile per hour speed limit has been established for Woodside road between Canada road and Whiskey Hill road. Signs are already posted.

Councilman Richard Marshall reported that $3560 was spent on

Atherton Delays Action On Town Plan

City Attorney Winston C. Black has recommended that Atherton's town council delay designing of a town master plan until the district court of appeals decides if a municipality can control the location of schools.

The council unanimously voted to sustain the recommendation, but agreed to retain Nestor Barrett, planning consultant, to work with the planning commission on the plan study.

Oaks Defeat Contra Costa

By STAN PRICE

Menlo journeys to Vallejo Thursday, for the three day Coast Conference Cage Tournament This event will feature a series of games enabling all six of the Coast teams to play each other. Thus when Conference play starts in the middle of January each team will know fairly well where it stands.

The Oaks can give a good accounting of themselves, if the team learns how to make good those rebounds. This and Cornell Green were responsible for Menlo's 72-68 defeat at the hands of West Contra Costa JC last Thursday.

The fabulous Mr. Green broke the Menlo gym record by scoring a terrific 38 points. Its a cinch that he won't be around for a second year with the Comets. He was equally good at defense. And when he wasn't stealing the ball from under Menlo's basket, Johnson was. Johnson, incidentally ran up a total of 17 points.

All this made it Menlo's first real game of the season. In terms of pure excitement, it was by far the best. Throughout the game WCC, led by Cornell Green would surge ahead. Then the Oaks would push their score up to within one or two points of that of the Comets. Just when it looked like the Oaks might establish a good lead, WCC would once more surge ahead. This went on throughout most of the game.

As usual Woodland, Westlake, and Wendell led the Oaks. But Phil Kelley managed to break into the triumvirate. Woodland was top man with 21 points, while Kelley was next with 17. Accuracy as a whole was not too hot.

The rebound business, which did not matter too much in the earlier games. In this one, however, if the Oaks had been able to follow up just a few shots, they would have had the game, regardless of any Mr. Green. It is hoped by everyone at Menlo that Coach Wuesthoff will have remedied this in time for the first regular conference game, against Monterey, January 4, 1958.

The Alameda Naval Air Station proved to be stronger than expected but the Oaks took them 78-73. Like WCC in the previous game, Menlo established a lead at the start which she never lost though at times the Navy came pretty close.

Phil Kelley's 25 points proved to be the big event of the game. He managed to pick up quite a few rebounds, especially in the second half. This is a very good sign; with the rebound problem picked nothing much can stop Menlo in the future.

Bob Wendell, 13 points, did much of the ball handling as usual. Jim Westlake also with 13 points was the other high scorer.

All in all, it looks like Menlo is going to be the team to beat at the Coast Conference.

Rink Babka:

DISCUS CHAMP

Rink Babka, former Menlo College student in 1954 and 1955, has returned to USC for his senior year as an industrial engineering major after completing a State Department-sponsored European tour.

While at Palo Alto High School Babka was a member of the All South PAL basketball league, Mid Peninsula Athlete of the Year, won his letter as a football end and won the PAL discus championship, all in 1954.

Recently in Europe, Babka competed in 23 discus meets in 46 days and got off the best discus throw in the world at Aabor, Denmark, where he threw the discus 186 feet 4 inches.

M-A Ready for Jousts

Oppose St. Ignatius In P. A. Tourney

Menlo-Atherton high's basketball teams are looking forward to three big tournaments during the coming Christmas holidays. The first meet will be held tonight when the Palo Alto-sponsored tournament gets underway at Palo Alto high school.

The Bears will meet the St. Ignatius squad at 9 p.m. for the first round, playing again tomorrow regardless of whether or not they win or lose. Saturday, the championship and consolation games will be played, followed by awards and selection of the all-tournament team.

The members of the championship team will get miniature gold basketballs and the members of the all-tournament team will be awarded individual trophies.

An award will also be presented to the school with the best cheering section for the tournament.

Coach Bob Ayers of the varsity club is looking forward to at least moderate success in the tournament. St. Ignatius is a strong club he says, but the Bears are doing well on offensive play this year and if the defense clicks today, M-A should get a win the first round.

The B team will also play St. Ignatius this evening, and Coach Bill Loftus is likewise looking forward to a win. The Bs have showed steady improvement, he says, and there is no reason why they shouldn't be strong enough to down the St. Ignatius club.

Next weekend the M-A cagers go to Mountain View for a three day tournament on Thursday, Friday and Saturday. And the final joust of the holidays will be held at Menlo-Atherton when the B team plays host to other Bay area B basketball clubs.

This tournament is being sponsored by M-A in conjunction with the Menlo Park Recreation Department.

It is anticipated that it will become an annual event for the school.

ANNUAL DINNER SET

January 23 has been selected as date for the annual dinner of adult leaders of the Ravenswood-Atherton-Menlo Park YMCA. The dinner will be held at a location to be announced later, and in conjunction with the annual dinner of the Sequoia YMCA.

Menlo-Atherton Completes Plans For Holiday Meet

Menlo-Atherton High School has completed the scheduling and final arangements for the basketball tournament to be held during the Christmas holidays, according to Bill Loftus, director of the tournament.

M-A will be host to seven Bay area high school teams on Jan. 2, and 4, in an event which Loftus anticipates will become an annual event. The four preliminary games to be played on Thursday, Jan. 2, will start at 4 p.m. when Burlingame and Arroyo play. At 5:30 George Washington will meet Capuchino and 7 p.m. Sunnyvale and Palo Alto will play. The evening will end with a match between M-A and Los Altos at 8:30 p.m.

On Friday, the loser of the Burlingame and Capuchino games will play at 4 p.m. and the winners at 7 p.m. The losers of the Sunnyvale and M-A games will play at 5:30 p.m. and the winners at 8:30 p.m.

Saturday evening the final contests will be played, those playing for the consolation trophy at 7 p.m. and the championship game at 8:30 p.m.

The tournament is sponsored by the high school in conjunction with the Menlo Park Recreation Department.

Two team trophies and one personal trophy will be awarded the appropriate recipients at the conclusion of the final game.

Also an all tourney team will be selected by the officials. each member to receive a miniature basketball.

M-A Loses Mat Bouts

The wrestling team of Menlo-Atherton high school got its season off to a disappointing start this past week by dropping two practice matches.

A week ago today, the matters went to Castro Valley for their first match and came away on the wrong end of a 37 to 5 score. The M-A team was in good form for its first match, says Coach Sam Lugonja, but their opponents had several matches for experience behind them and were obviously much more experienced.

Danny Hack, of the 133 pound class, netted three points for M-A by winning over his opponent by a decision, and Tom Mazik, in the 138 pound class, brought a tie, adding two points to Hack's three.

Twelve matches were wrestled all together, five of them ending in a one point difference, with Menlo-Atherton on the short end.

Last Monday, the M-A wrestling squad lost another match, this time to Hayward on Hayward's mats. The score was 35 to 11.

Bruce Hopkins of the 120 pound class found the first pin of the season for Menlo-Atherton which gave his team five of their 11 points. Later Ray Holderman, weighing into the 145 pound class, won a decision over his opponent netting three more points, and Dan Arnanassco of the unlimited class also won a decision for three more points.

Again in this match, M-A followed close behind their opponents by losing four matches by only one point. Also again, Hayward has been wrestling for several weeks now and showed the experience of several practice matches.

Bears' Undefeated Cage Record Lost

The Menlo-Atherton B basketball team continued their undefeated season this week by taking two more practice games, while the varsity squad lost their spotless record by losing to the Hillsdale club. Both teams won their last practice game of the pre-Christmas season on Tuesday afternoon as they downed the Los Altos cagers, the varsity winning 43 to 33, the Bs 37 to 19.

The varsity showed considerable improvement in their defensive play which had been their downfall earlier in the week when they went under to Hillsdale. In the Los Altos game, keeping their foes to a small 33 points, they went ahead to chalk up a ten point lead. Hal Brumm took high scoring honors with 11 points, followed closely behind by Fred Pegelow with 10 and Bob Ralls with nine.

The B squad continued to show improvement and also continued their winning streak almost doubling the Los Altos score. Defense is still tight for the B squad, according to Coach Bill Loftus, and their offensive play is showing fine improvement. Cliff Davis was high scorer with 14 points and Dom Ascani took second honors with 11 points.

The Menlo-Atherton varsity basketball squad lost their first game of the season last Friday when they went down to defeat under the opposition of the Hillsdale cagers, by a score of 62 to 55.

The Bears playing their first game on a foreign court saw the possibilities of victory only for a short time in the first quarter when they led the Hillsdale five by 14 to 13. But in the second quarter Hillsdale went ahead to stay with the score at the half time 22 to 19.

Several of the Bears' players put in a fine game, with forward Bob Ralls scoring eight straight free throws and tallying a total of 12 for the game. Ralls left the game before it was over because of a cut eye which cost him seven stitches. Guard Fred Pegelow took top honors for the Bears with 18 points; he also made eight straight free throws. Hank Fullenwider and Hal Brumm scored 10 and nine points, respectively.

Menlo-Atherton was the last of the mid-peninsula high school teams to lose their undefeated record.

The B team, however, was more fortunate in their excursion to Hillsdale. They won their game 40 to 27. The B squad continued to show improvement in their offensive game and once again showing a strong defense were able to keep their foes to a minimum score. Jon Peck was high scorer for the Bs with 14 points and Dom Ascani took second honors with 13.

The Bs, by keeping an undefeated record, remain one of the few teams in their league who still have not met a defeat.

This weekend the Bs will travel with the varsity squad to Palo Alto where they will compete in the annual Palo Alto basketball tournament.

Menlo Park Sets Winter Contests

The Menlo Park Recreation Department has scheduled several basketball leagues and tournaments for the winter season.

This week the Industrial League got underway with seven teams participating in the program. The National Seats Corp., the Industrial Plating Corp., the Argonaut Insurance Co., PSEA, Stanford Research Institute, Hewlett Packard Corp., and Litton Industrial Co., are those groups entering teams in the league. These clubs will play about two games a week through the end of March.

As part of the industrial basketball program, the MP Recreation Department will sponsor an Industrial Invitational tournament to be held at Burgess gym from Dec. 28 through Jan. 26, on Sunday afternoons. This tournament is for many of the industrial teams throughout the Bay area.

More adult teams will participate in the San Mateo County AA invitational tournament between Feb. 2 and Feb. 23 on Sunday afternoons at Burgess gym. This tournament is for adult basketball clubs.

The elementary school teams will start their basketball leagues in January after the conclusion of the Christmas holidays. The eighth grades will play in an invitational basketball tournament on Saturday afternoons in February which will include many of the peninsula eighth grade teams.

The fifth, sixth and seventh grades will run through a league, similar to the just completed football league, and will end their season by tournament play in the latter part of the winter.

The basketball courts of the MP Recreation Department gyms are scheduled to be full most of the time this winter between scheduled league and tournament games and the usual free play time when the courts are open to the public.

The courts will be closed on Christmas and New Dear's days.

Area Snow Clubs Available to Local Skiers

For the skiers in the area there are several local groups which can help you to further your winter sporting activities.

The organization behind all the area ski clubs is the Bay Area Ski Federation, a group formed some seven years ago as a non-profit social group for the welfare of the Bay Area skiers and ski clubs. This federation annually sponsors the Championship Races and Winter Carnival held in the Donner Summit area and the Winter Ball and Bay Area Queen contest held in the Bay area.

In the more immediate area, the Peninsula Ski Club is an organization which plans weekly ski trips to Donner Summit. This club meets every Wednesday evening at 8:15 at the San Mateo City Council Chambers at Ellsworth avenue in San Mateo. For information about the club, the mailing address is P.O. Box 305, San Mateo.

Palo Alto also has an organized ski club which meets every first and third Wednesdays at the East Palo Alto Women's Club. This group can be contacted by mail by addressing the Palo Alto Ski Club at P.O. Box 424 in Palo Alto.

For information about membership in any of these ski clubs, contact the one of the clubs or the Bay Area Ski Federation at 5531 Kales avenue in Oakland.

Those planning on the trip should meet at the Los Gatos depot at 1:30 p.m. For further information contact leader Jim Smith, FR 8-4856.

McKinney Cagers Hold Strong Lead In Adult League

McKenney All-Stars are on top of the Ravenswood Adult Basketball League with 5 victories and no losses, followed by the Dumbarton Club who have chalked up 4 wins against 1 loss.

Last Wednesday, the All-Stars scored an impressive 80-42 win over the Jokers, with Ernie Scott tanking 20 points and Al McKinney 14 for the winners. Frank Larraux had 17, including 5 free throws, for the Jokers.

In the second game the Dumbarton Club easily downed the Menlo AC by a score of 50 to 26, although there was but 3 points spread between the two teams at half time. Neil Skanderup and Tom Crane found the range in the second half to widen the margin. Neil tallied 14 and Tom dropped in 13, including 5 free throws.

High point man for the losers was Ray Smith with 8 points.

Santa Claus Visits Cub Pack 208 Meet

If onyone wonders where Santa Claus was last Friday night, members of Cub Pack 208 will tell them that he stopped by at their pack meeting to distribute gifts among them.

Santa's visit was part of the Christmas party meeting and refreshments helped to make it a gala affair.

Awards were made to the following Cubs:

Patrick Serna, bear badge and gold arrow; Richard Reutlinger, two silver arrows; Michael Fujimoro, lion badge and Webelos badge; Joel Harry, wolf badge; Norris Harry, lion badge, gold arrow and Webelos badge; Danny Dicks, wolf badge and Mark Harper, wolf badge.

Kenny Semon won $5, Wellesley Umeda, $3.50 and Danny Dennis, $2.50 in the Christmas Holly sale contest.

Football League Winners

When "Chuck" Melick reported to the Ravenswood City School District board of trustees on the district recreation program earlier this month, he proudly announced that his Green Oaks Junior School football team had won the season championship.

Scoring for 1957 was as follows:

Green Oaks 20 — McKinley School 6.

Green Oaks 21—Menlo Oaks 0.

Green Oaks 7 — McKinley School 0.

Green Oaks 14 — Palo Alto Military Academy 0.

Green Oaks 22 — Goodwin School 7.

Green Oaks 7 — Hoover School 7.

(McKinley, Goodwin and Hoover schools are junior schools from Redwood City; P.A.M.A. is a private jjunior high school.)

Coach Melick used the single wing attack, breaking Willie Campbell and Lionel Winston away for many long runs. Campbell ran from the tailback position and Winston was a hard-driving fullback. The two speed burners scored 12 touchdowns between them and averaged over 100 yards on the ground per game. Only three touchdowns were scored against Green Oak's Oklahoma defense all season.

"The sterling line play of end Lenzie Johnson, tackles Mike Eserini and George Raybon, guard Gary Shouse and linebacker Jim Tabor were the defenite reason why the opponents' offense lacked scoring ability," Melick states.

Continual pressure by the line and great pass coverage by David Cheney, Ronnie Peres, Willie Campbell and Lionel Winston held opponents' pass offense to six during the entire season.

"Much credit must be given to the leadership of both David Chaney and Willie Campbell through out the schedule," Melick avers.

The following boys made up the squad: James Alums, end; Lenzie Johnson, end and center; Charles Wade, end; Arnold Gilpin, end; Richard Pahler, end; Mike Eserini, George Raybon, James Smith and Jim McMenamy, tackles;

Ronnie Peres and John Hawkins, halfbacks; Steve Brownell and Jerry Schoenauer, ends.

Tony Juliana was manager and Melick was coach.

Skiers See Big Season

The ski season for local residents is just getting into full swing and the Christmas holidays are expected to bring maximum crowds to the Donner pass area and Yosemite skiing slopes.

Along with the new enthusiasm for skiing and the several new ski slopes that the 1957-1958 season has brought much new equipment has found its way to the ski shops which is designed for all classes and types of skiers.

In the line of skis, the European brands are still the most popular with Diamant, a German ski, Kaslte, an Austrian ski, and Kneisel, leading the market in the wooden skis. Attenhofer Metalic, made in France, is one of the newest skis in the metal laminated design. This ski has found a great deal of popularity and has proven heavy competition for the Head metal ski which has been on the market for some time now.

The line of boots on the market this year are also predominately of European make. Still very popular with the skiing public is the Swiss made boot the Henke, which is well suited to all types and classes of skiers, as well as the skiers pocketbook. Along with the Henke in popularity is an Austrian boot, the Koflach, which has proven popular with the skiing public.

With bindings, the emphasis this year continues the trend of the last few years of giving the skier as much freedom as possible and still the safety that is necessary. Continuing at the head of the popularity list of ski bindings are the favorites of last season, the Ski Free, the German Marker, Cubco, and the A and T Roller and Racer. All of these give very adequate tension while at the same time providing a release for any type of fall. But as John Potts of the ski department at Shreve and Pryce points out, the safety binding is only as safe as the skier who is using it. Its necessary, says Potts, that the skier learn how to use the binding before he puts too much faith in it.

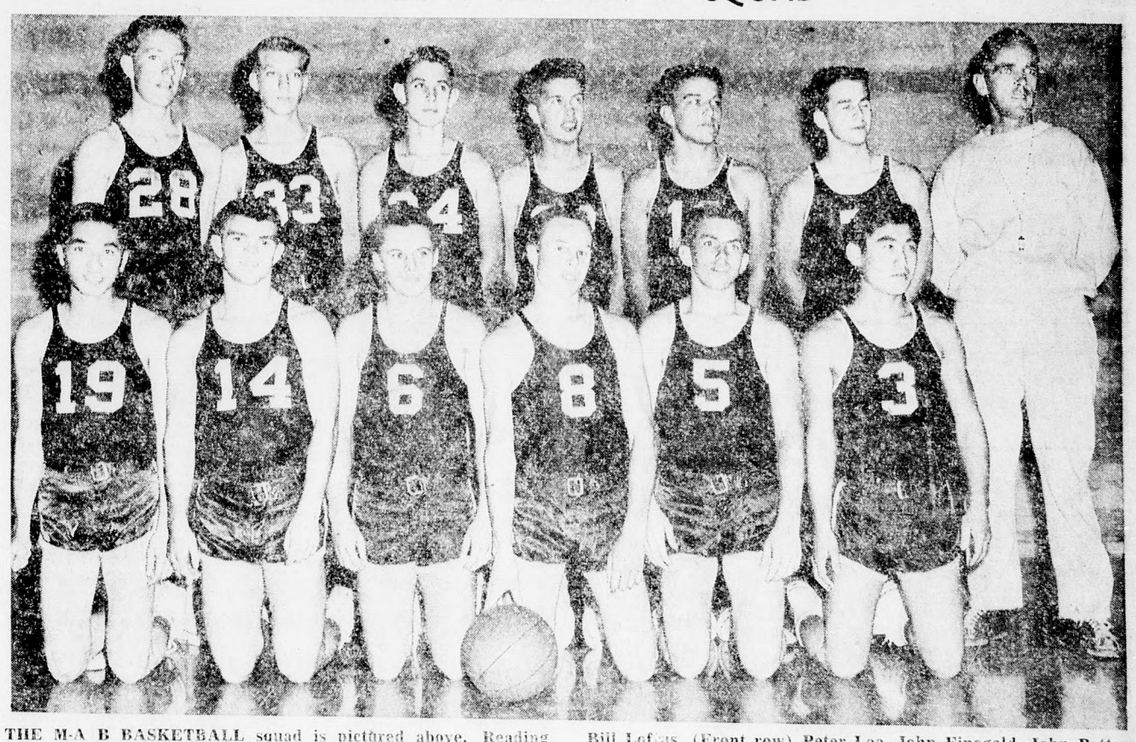

Re-Enlistment Program Told

Chief Petty Officer Ralph B. Johnson of the United States Navy recruiting substation, at the old courthouse in Redwood City, reported this week that a re-enlistment drive launched by the northern California recruiting service a month ago has proven successful.

He added that the incentives offered former navy men are largely responsible for the success of the drive.

Former navy men interested in date should contact Chief Johnson at EM 8-3148.

Menlo College Skiers Make Winter Plans

An inter-club race is the big project of the Menlo College Ski Club, according to President Charlie Fike. The winner of the race will receive the newly purchased club trophy. Dodge Ridge is the planned location for the event, which should take place sometime in February.

The Ski Club would like to get into inter-collegiate competition, perhaps racing in the PCC. As yet permission to do this has not been secured. There are a number of Class A skiers, including Dave Warwick, who is up for the Olympics.

Lack of snow has hampered the activities of the group so far. But in February, Charlie Fike promises, the club will really start rolling.

SRI Choral Group To Give Concert

The Stanford Research Institute chorus will present a concert of Christmas carols "under the stars" at Town and Country Village, Palo Alto, on the evening of Dec. 23.

Accompanied by a horn ensemble of SRI instrumentalists, the group will present its repertory of Christmas music. In addition to the more familiar popular carols, the repertory includes such lesser-known pieces as "With a Torch Jeannette Isabella," and "What Child Is This?"

The chorus rehearses bi-weekly under the direction of Dr. R. Manning Hermes, manager of the Institute's Control Systems Laboratory. Previously, Dr. Hermes was a member of the San Diego Youth Symphony and the San Jose Symphony Orchestra. He is also a member of the Palo Alto Community Band and director of the choir at St. Raymond's Church in Menlo Park.

The first detachment of the First New York Volunteers arrived in San Francisco March 6, 1847, after a voyage around Cape Horn in five small transports.

Garden Column:

'Living' Christmas Trees Prove Fine Holiday Decoration

Local residents—always eager for practical and exciting new ideas—are welcoming wholeheartedly the "living" Christmas tree concept. It is suggested that gardeners consider the new practice instead of buying a tree that is wastefuly discarded after each holiday season.

There are two variations to the practice. Some home owners select slow growing or dwarf conifers which will thrive in containers. Each year the tree, container and all, is brought indoors and decorated. The remainder of the year it becomes an outdoor attraction. Other home gardeners select their conifer especiallly for its use as an outdoor Christmas tree, using it inside only during its first Yule season.

Among the slow growing or dwarf conifers are several varieties which make ideal "living" Christmas trees. One of the selections, the Leodar Cedar, is so widely grown in the state and so traditionally "Christmassy" in appearance, that it has long been called the California Christmas tree. A native of the Himalayas, the Deodar Cedar provides frosty, blue-green foliage in an attractive conical shape. There is a compact type of Deodar Cedar which seldom reaches 25 feet at full maturity. This is a beautiful and distinguished lawn specimen when it has outgrown its container and has been planted outdoors.

One of the best conifers for a "living" Christmas tree is the symmetrical Norway Spruce (picea pungens), an extremely slow growing tree. It has handsome, silvery, grey-green foliage which makes a distinctive background for Yule decorations. One variatnon, Colorado Blue Spruce (p.p. glauca), has a bluish tinge to its foliage. Both these spruces have very regular, horizontal branches and the traditional pyramidal shape.

"Living" Christmas trees are available at local nurseries throughout the holiday season. Nurserymen have them in five gallon containers or balled in burlap. A variety of attractive containers in many sizes will also be available. Decorating the containers especially for the Yule should be as enjoyable as decorating the tree. There are many beautiful metal foils and colorful patterned cloths and papers which may be used to add a seasonal note to the container.

Three conifers which are more suitably planted outdoors after one holiday season are the White Fir (abies concolor), a typical and popular cut Christmas tree, the Single Leaf Pine (pinus monophylla) and the Scotch Pine (pinus sylvestris). Since the White Pine makes an effective and attractive hedge or specimen tree, many home owners have used the "living" Christmas tree idea to improve their landscape for years to come.

The "living" Christmas tree, while it is indoors, can be cared for as easily as any house plant. Watered carefully and kept from especially warm corners, the tree will truly brighten the holidays—and be a joy all year long.

GARDENER'S CHECKLIST

1. Pruning ornamental shubs can be a simple task with proper instructions. Ask your nurseryman to help you. He may recommend a comprehensive pruning manual.
2. Bedding plants should be set in this month. Specimens of violas and calendulas (just as examples) can brighten drab winter scenes.
3. Plant these cold weather vegetables now: cabbage, onions, cauliflower, brussel sprouts, beets, carrots, turnips and swiss chard.
4. Some bulbs, such as hyacinths, tulips, ranunculus and anemones can still be planted this month.
5. Heather can be planted now. Check with your local nursery for some favorite named varieties.

Animal Devices:

Hillview Tot Area Gets New Equipment Designed to Provoke Imagination

Playground devices shaped as animals are the latest improvements in the world of the tiny tots. And three of these new devices were installed in a section of the Hillview school playground this past week. The tots of the area now have a Flying Horse to swing on, a Tent Slide to climb over or crawl under, and Don the Dragon to ride or climb on the back of.

This equipment was purchased for the city by the Menlo-Atherton Junior Women's Club and installed in the playground by the Menlo Park Recreation Department. Mrs. Norman Bourke, president of the club, said that the group first got the idea for these novel tot play devices early in the year when they were looking for a way in which they could contribute to the community.

Realizing that there were very few facilities in the area for youngsters between the ages of two and six, Mrs. Richard Star, chairman of the build a better community committee of the women's club, got in touch with Fred Parsons of the Menlo Park Recreation Department. Aware also of the lack of equipment for the kids, Parsons got in touch with Rod Overton of the Monarch Playground Devices company, the original designer of the animal-like equipment.

The equipment has several unique features which make it particularly suitable to tiny tots, Overton explains. First, the equipment is usually fairly close to the ground, seldom over five feet high. This discourages not so tiny tots from using it and depriving the younger ones of their due play allowance. Second, equipment is so designed that the youngsters get a chance to stretch all their growing muscles. This, pediatricians have recognized for some time, is a natural tendency of children of the pre-school age, Overton says. They look for things to climb on and about to give their muscles a stretch. And most important, the Women's club learned, these devices also give children the chance to work out their imagination.

Now the tot, while stretching his muscles, can imagine himself riding a gallant white steed or fighting the bad dragon.

Mrs. Bourke said that the three devices were purchased and ready to install last March, but that the Recreation Department was unable to install them until this week because of a lack of agreement with the Hillview school on the use of part of the play area.

Mrs. Star said that the club hopes to be able to install three more devices in the Hillview tot area by the latter part of next spring. The area will hold six, she said, and the club now is looking forward to adding Julie the Donkey, Tut the Turtle and a Beanstaik Climber.

Menlo Park Rec Department has plans for installing this type of equipment in other tot areas, Parsons said. The Department has an expansion and improvement program which, among other things, will bring the new equipment to the tot areas at Belle Haven, Burgess, Nealon and Willow playgrounds.

Parsons also noted that the Hillview tot area will not be provided with a supervisor.

In Mexico for the Holidays:

Daugherty-Gananian Vows

A honeymoon and Christmas holiday in Mexico are being taken by Mr. and Mrs. Myron Gananian (Elizabeth Louise Daugherty) who were married last Saturday at 3 o'clock ceremonies at Stanford Memorial Church.

Elizabeth is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Daugherty Jr. of Palo Alto and Myron is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Gananian of Menlo Park.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a white peau de soie with Alencon lace designed with a full flowing bell shaped bouffant skirt which ended in a chapel train. The lace trimmed bodice was cut with a round neckline and long sleeves.

A tiara of seed pearls held her French illusion fingertip length veil and she carried a shower arrangement of stephanotis and white roses.

TRIO ATTENDS

Mrs. Richard Freeman of San Francisco was the matron of honor and the bridesmaids were Loretta Gananian of Menlo Park, the benedict's sister, and Geraldine Newton of Palo Alto.

The three donned ballerina length frocks of emerald green satin fashioned on princess lines with a full back detail. They carried cascades of happiness roses and wore headpieces of garnet roses.

Myron asked his brother, George Gananian, to stand as best man and some 150 guests were seated by James Miller, Gerald Severin and Richard Freeman, all Stanford medical students from San Francisco and classmates of the bridegroom.

DOUBLE RING

The Rev. Robert Minto of Stanford and Rev. Donald Poston of the First Christian Church of Palo Alto officiated at the double ring ceremonies.

Following the vows, a reception was held at the Allied Arts Guild. Receiving the guests, Mrs. Daugherty was wearing a light blue satin dress with blue accessories. Mrs. Gananian chose a Dior blue satin with a chinchilla stole and white accessories.

As the bridal couple departed, the new Mrs. Gananian tossed her bouquet which was caught by her new sister-in-law, Loretta Gananian. For traveling, the bride donned a grey wool frock with a winter white coat and accessories. They drove to San Diego and left that locale by plane for Mexico City. They will return the end of December and will make their home in San Francisco.

SCHOOLING

The bride was graduated from Lafayette High School in Lexington, Ky., and the University of Kentucky at Lexington. Until her marriage, she was employed at the Palo Alto Clinic.

Myron was graduated from Brooklyn Technical High School and attended the Foreign Service School, Georgetown University, and graduated from Stanford. He is now a junior at the Stanford Medical School and is president of his class. He also spent three years with the Army and was stationed in Germany.

Cocktails on a Bus Enroute to City:

Starlighters Have Gay Holiday Party

A SMILING SNOWMAN at their dinner table captured the attention of Mrs. E. B. Stephenson and Mr. Stephenson of Atherton and Mrs. Edward Havard of Menlo Park who were among the Starlighters attending the recent dinner-dance held in the City. The Yule party took place at the Mark Hopkins Hotel.
—Recorder photo

DR. AND MRS. John von Berg of Atherton were chairmen of the recent Starlighters holiday party held in the Room of the Dons at the Mark Hopkins Hotel in San Francisco. Localites boarded two buses for the trip into town and enjoyed "cocktails" enroute.

Oui . . .

The Party Was Fun

"Oui" may be the extent of your capabilities as a French linguist but not so for third and fourth year French students at Menlo-Atherton High School who last night conversed with each other in the language of Parisians and sat down to a banquet feast prepared from authentic French recipes.

The party took place at the home of Sue Lampman with the seven-course dinner, made by the students themselves, including Vichysoie Soup and a main course of Boeuf de Bonaparte.

Several of the girls, dressed as French waitresses, served the dinner and others attending donned typical French garb. Tables were set with atmospheric checkered cloths with candles in wine bottles. And in the background, there was French music.

Among those attending were "Monsieur and Madame" William Ziegler (he is one of the French instructors at M-A) and the following students: Sue Lampman, Phyllis Gates, DeeDee Dwane, Jennifer Perrin, Carol Leihy, Barbara Buckholtz, Linda Skaff, Al Luchini, Irwin Howard, Louise Stapleton, Pat Barbo, Peggy Twift, Carol Stevenson, Val Jensen, Holly Millar, Bonnie Nuttell, Penny Post, Gene Ashley, Edith Bizot and Rae-Ann Bringhurst.

Oui . . . they had a very good time.

THE ALFRED DUCATOS of Hillsborough formerly of Atherton, held a gala cocktail party at their home last Saturday with many localites attending.

Gay Mood Sets Tempo

A traveling cocktail party was held recently and concluded at the Room of the Dons at the Mark Hopkins Hotel in San Francisco for the gay holiday party for the Starlighters dance group from this area.

Dr. and Mrs. John von Berg chairmanned the holiday soiree . . . members boarded two buses (currently a popular mode of transportation for large traveling parties) and took a "holiday" from traffic worries and enjoyed cocktails enroute to the City.

On one bus, Kenneth Ackles of Menlo Park, was the "host with the most," and on the other, Henry Knutzen of Atherton did his "best for the guest(s) . . . with Mrs. Ackles and Mrs. Knutzen listed among the passengers.

Others giving Dr. and Mrs. von Berg a hand in making the party arrangements were Mr. and Mrs. Sanford Moose, Mr. and Mrs. Clark Madsen, all of Menlo Park, Mr. and Mrs. Duane Spencer of Atherton and the Leslie Posts of Palo Alto.

The evening's them was "Bal de la Neige" and included dinner and dancing . . . Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Stephenson were enthusiastically describing their new abode in Atherton where they moved about three weeks ago . . . Dr. Anthony Thompson of Atherton, as "photographer" for the evening, there with Mrs. Thompson . . . Mr. and Mrs. Donald Murphy, also of Atherton, with petite Mrs. Murphy in a gold and black strapless gown.

Others at the party . . . Mrs. Frank Nye and Mrs. Vic Musy, both of whom chose emerald green satin for their frocks, there with Mr. Nye and Mr. Musy, both couples from Menlo Park . . . donning a full length pink moire party gown was Mrs. Arthur Tibbitts of Atherton, there with Mr. Tibbits.

Under official business, George Ford of Menlo Park, chairman of the Starlighters this year, announced the next party on March 1 would be held at La Rinconada Country Club rather than at the originally scheduled location "Saba" which burned last month.

And "after the ball was over," party-goers boarded their chartered buses and returned to their homes here on the Peninsula.

Encinal Choir To Sing at Guild Monday

For the past four years, the Palo Alto Tea Auxiliary to the Stanford Convalescent Home has presented various singing groups at the Guild during the holiday season.

All profits and proceeds from the tea benefit the Stanford Convalescent Home.

Yule Parties By Sigma Kappa

The afternoon section of the Peninsula Alumnae of Sigma Kappa sorority will hold its holiday party at 1 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Conrad P. Hardy, 965 Echo drive, Los Altos, today.

Mrs. Charles Key of Palo Alto was named president; Mrs. Anthony Pierno, Menlo Park, vice president; Mrs. Gregg Doty, Menlo Park, secretary and Mrs. Philip Aaron, Palo Alto, treasurer.

Members also brought Christmas gifts for children which will be delivered to the San Mateo Children's Hospital, and also had a "white elephant" gift exchange.

Christmas carols and refreshments concluded the evening.

Presbyterian Christening For Raye Baby

Christening services followed by a champagne reception were held last Sunday for William Francis Raye, three-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald F. Raye of Menlo Park.

The services were held at 12:30 p.m. at the Menlo Park Presbyterian Church with Rev. Don Hall officiating. Godparents are Mr. and Mrs. Russell Whitman of Menlo Park.

Others attending the christening for the baby, who was born September 23, were his sister, Jeannette, 15 months, his grandparents, Mrs. William C. Allen of San Francisco and Mrs. Frank R. Raye of San Carlos. The senior Mr. Raye was unable to attend due to illness.

Also here for the event was the baby's great grandmother, Mrs. Charles Cliver of San Jose.

Some 50 relatives and close friends attended the reception later in the afternoon.

JOB'S DAUGHTERS

Thirty members of Menlo Park Job's Daughters, Bethel 242, made a recent sojourn to the Masonic home in Decoto to present favors for use on the residents' Christmas tables. The local girls also presented a program of Christmas carols.

For Rehabilitated:

Yule Party Given

A special Christmas celebration was held yesterday when trainees of the new Sheltered Workshop and "old grads" were honored guests at the Society for Crippled Children and Adults Inc. new rehabilitation and research center in Burlingame.

The party was staged by the Auxiliary to the Society and several local matrons were on hand to give an assist to the holiday affair. They included Mrs. Jan G. J. Boissevain of Menlo Park, Mrs. Charles Black, Mrs. Harris B. Fenn Jr., both of Atherton, Mrs Robert Atkinson and Mrs. Hugh Southgate, both of Woodside.

There were refreshments and community singing of Christmas carols and a large Christmas tree laden with gifts.

TREATMENT

"Old grads" included the many handicapped individuals who have received treatment and training from the society over the years and the trainees included those now receiving the same services.

The new center is located at 764 Marco Polo way, Burlingame. The Society was alerted over the critical need for such a program when results of a survey showed in 1956 that 9000 persons were in need of treatment in San Mateo County.

The Society's long range plan includes new techniques to restore to the handicapped individual faith in himself; power to establish and master new crafts; the right to economic security; new hope for a life of dignity and fulfillment, and to secure to himself the spiritual values attendant on the development of an orderly existence.

WORKSHOP PROGRAM

The handicapped are presently employed in the workshop under a program which stresses work habits, work tolerance and independence. Workers are paid an hourly wage in accordance with state and federal recommendations and have successfully handled sub-contract jobs from many industries including three major electronics firms in this area.

The expanding program is designed to assist the trainee to help himself and to later find job placement.

Pageant at Castilleja Tomorrow

The traditional Christmas pageant, the "Juggler of Notre Dame," a pantomine based on the Anatole France legend, will be presented by the entire student body of Castilleja School tomorrow at 11 a.m. in the chapel.

The part of the Madonna will be played by Janet Garrison of Coos Bay, Oregon. The Juggler will be played by Susan Haehl of Palo Alto, and the Juggler's troupe will include Anne Giere, Judy Gibbs, Stanley Good, Gail Hamilton, and Karen Harms.

The Prologue, written by Nancy Jacobs, will be read by Kathleen Johnson. Lay Brothers will be Nancy Lord and Beth Hunter and Acolytes will be Susan Clark, Patsy Hunter, Kathy Kendrick and Barrie Ramsay.

Cocktail Fete Given Monday

The Party Givers headquarters on Doyle street was filled to overflowing late Monday afternoon and early evening for the gala cocktail party and buffet dinner given for members of the staff, their families and friends.

Hosts for the affair, given from 3 to 8 o'clock, were Mrs. Olga Fickes, Gene Peter Podany and John Darimon, partners of the Party Givers.

City officials and dignitaries along with a host of friends were bid to the holiday event which featured, in addition to the cocktail hour and supper, music by an orchestra.

Fashion Carousel:

Attention Men: Gift Ideas for the Women

By EVELYN RADCLIFFE

Christmas Fashion Tips for Men: If you've "let a woman in your life," chances are you're still trying to decide what to buy her for Christmas. Statistics show that men are notorious for buying at the last minute. We can't make up your mind for you, but to help guide you in buying the best of what you choose, we'll tell you what's the latest thing in many gift items.

IF YOU'VE CHOSEN:

Jewelry, make it big, bold and colorful. The popularity of the chemise (sack dress to you) with its uncluttered simplicity makes jewelry a very important part of fashion. No more little scatter pins, unless, of course, you're buying diamonds. Fashion - wise, though, it's better to buy the frankly fake jewelry, but far be it from us to discourage a gift of diamonds!

Blouses: To go along with the current fashion, an over-blouse (one that is worn over the top of the skirt instead of tucked in) would help give the new silhouette to last year's skirt.

Hosiery: Try giving her color. Some of the newest hose are downright colored, while others have just a hint for the timid. Reports say many New York women are wearing black hose, off-black and navy. Another radical idea you might try just for fun is the new textured hosiery for wear with country tweeds.

In Paris, Lanvin hose are appearing with small embroidered designs just above the knee. Looks like they're expecting hemlines to get p-r-e-t-t-y high this spring.

Lingerie: Make this definitely colorful. The newest shade is apricot, and the newest styles could almost double as evening dresses, they're so beautifully detailed.

Wraps: This could mean any choice from a full length mink coat (make it one of the newest blonde shades) to a Chantilly lace stole. It could be a cashmere cardigan with floral printed chiffon overlay; or if you want to go completely giddy, buy her an ostrich feather boa. They're the latest!

Scarves: Don't bother with the little conventional square ones, she'll buy those for herself. Look at the long flowing chiffons that can double for blouse, belt, or headdress; particularly new in a paisley printed chiffon.

Gloves: You're in luck if you've chosen gloves, because since there are no big innovations in style, you won't need a fashion guide, and even if you don't know her size, there are those cute little "stretchies" which fit anyone. Something a little more elaborate, like smooth kid, would be less likely to duplicate what she already has, however. For driving there is a very convenient imported glove that has leather palm and fingers, and a knitted fabric top. (This is an excellent choice for the sports car driver).

Pants: If you've thought about buying her an "at home" costume, look for the new "Skants." They're slim, tapered pants with billowy overskirts to match. We label this new idea good fashion. The woman in your life will love the freedom of wearing pants combined with the femininity of the skirt.

Whatever your choice, happy hunting, and MERRY CHRISTMAS, everyone.

Caper Club Students Dance at Yule Party

The Menlo Oaks Caper Club held its annual Christmas party last evening at the Willow School multipurpose room with decorations carrying the theme "The Candy Cane Ball."

Those on the parent committee, who with their husbands were hosts and hostesses, were Mrs. Frank Sequeira, Mrs. L. A. Kohler, Mrs. H. E. Wuhrman, Mrs. R. J. Ritchey, Mrs. J. R. Christensen, Mrs. J. L. Buckingham, Mrs. A. O. Erickson and Mrs. G. Donald Freeman.

The student committee included Linda Gronenthal, Rita Hull, Janet Weller, Rita Heckathorn, Barbara Meier, Joan Frazee, Cathy Callahan, Coreen Davis, Pamela Brown, Sharon Beach, Rod Poitras, Terry Freeland, Donna Jean Freeman, Lynn Wuhrman, Dennis Sequeira, Jimmy Thoits, Ray Ritchey, Rick Christensen, Ethel Erickson, Dick Kohler and Lee Buckingham.

New National Headquarters:

Local AAUW Prexy Tells of Building Plans in East

Mrs. Robert Houston, president of the Menlo-Atherton branch of the American Association of University Women, has announced the receipt of news of the national organization's purchase of 21,000 feet of property in Washington's Potomac Plaza center for a new two million dollar headquarters building project.

This new center is being planned along the lines of Rockefeller Center in New York City. The AAUW proposes to have the building finished in 1959.

An estimated one and one-half million dollars will be raised for the project from among the 142,000 members throughout the United States, Alaska, Hawaii and Guam.

CURRENT HEADQUARTERS

Currently the national headquarters are housed in a historic five story building which served as a gay social center during President Theodore Roosevelt's administration, and was later the Imperial Russian Embassy and then the home of the Men's City Club.

The AAUW headquarters will bring to the Potomac Plaza development an educational organization which has had 75 years of practical work ranging from the support of higher standards in education to a more effective and intelligent participation in the processes of democracy.

The headquarters will house the administrative offices as well as a professional staff which develops study materials for publication and provides program services to branch and state divisions.

In addition, the Association supports a Fellowship program with an endowment of $1,812,000. This program, to which the Menlo-Atherton branch contributed recently with the proceeds of their rummage sale, brings to the United States 30 women from abroad for study and research and provides grants for advanced research in this country by women scholars.

Tomorrow Last Day to Register for Course

Tomorrow is the last day to register for the "Songs and Games" course at the Menlo-Atherton High School Adult Education session, according to the Sequoia Area Girl Scout Council.

The eight-week course will be given providing there is sufficient registration. Those interested may register by calling the Girl Scout office, EM 6-4681. The registration fee is $1, payable at the first class meeting.

Only Area Appearance:

Violinist to Play

Local music lovers are reminded that tickets are now on sale for the benefit concert to be given by Joseph Szigeti, one of the half dozen acknowledged great living violinists, in Veterans' Memorial Auditorium in San Francisco, who will make his only appearance in the bay area this season.

The concert, slated for January 4, is being given as a benefit by the Hungarian virtuso to aid a community of Hungarian Benedictine priests and their school, the Woodside Priory. The musical event is sponsored by the Mothers' Guild of the Woodside Priory School and the Friends of the Priory.

The Hungarian Benedictine priests escaped seven years ago from behind Hungary's iron curtain and have established a college preparatory school for boys in Portola Valley, four miles south of Woodside.

Szigeti made his American debut in December 1925, as a soloist with the Philadelphia Orchestra under the baton of Leopold Stokowski. Since then, he has toured the United States each year and has appeared in every music center of the world and at virtually every important festival.

Following this 31st year of success in this country, Szigeti will dedicate himself to those facets of art and those regions of the world he has thus far neglected. He will devote his time to the presentation of Bach, Beethoven and Mozart Sonata series, the 20th Century Sonata Cycle, and a backlog of recordings.

Tickets to the January 4 concert may be purchased by calling Mrs. Robert Gill, Woodside, UL 1-1864, or at the Peninsula Box Office in Palo Alto or at Sherman Clay in San Francisco.

What's Doing Among Menlo Park Teen-Agers

Suzanne Horney DA 3-2087

'Twas the night before Christmas . . . With that familiar phrase we swing into this week's column, which is as full of holiday news as a Christmas stocking is full of gifts!

Menlo College started the snowball rolling last Friday with their Christmas formal. Ernie Hecksher's orchestra filled the dance hall at the San Mateo Elks' Club with dreamy music. Christmas trees were the central decorations. Before the dance several went to the India House in San Francisco for dinner. They were Dale Stopp, Nancy Camp, Bill Keahey, Lynne Hills, Ed Sprague and Betty Cotton. Among the crowd at the dance were seen M-A graduates Diane Sullivan, Fred Gayer, Nick Bouja, Don Powell and Gail Davis.

The Menlo Boys' School gave its winter formal on Saturday evening. Dave Sexton's Band, one of the "swingingest" bands around, played for the couples. (Dave, by the way, graduated two years ago from Menlo-Atherton. His regular drummer, Jerry Bird, wasn't there Saturday, but usually plays in the band. Jerry and Dave were classmates in high school).

Back to the Menlo dance! Chairman was John Curry. In charge of invitations and bids (the bids were very cleverly done in red and white design) was Pete Cotton. Decorations, Bruce Durbrow; publicity, Jim Wells; refreshments, Pete Law; orchestra, Les Brown. (If Les' name sounds familiar . . . well, it should. His father is the leader of the Band of Renown. Les is currently playing with his father's band in Tokyo). Among the other boys working on the dance were Bill Robbins, Sam Coleman and Dennis Murphy. And of course, Byron Hall! The boys did a terrific job and the dance was certainly a success!

A surprise birthday party with all the trimmings (cake, ice cream and FUN) was given by Jane Penfield for Nancy Kornblith. Celebrating the birthday were Sally Collier, Helen Hoffman, Martha Weers and Alice Yount.

CANDLES, CALENDARS!

Teen group at Holy Trinity Episcopal Church is selling beeswax calendars, red and green and very good looking, at the church on Ravenswood and Laurel avenue. The candles come in various sizes and shapes, don't drip, and the weather doesn't affect them! They are good for any time of the year and make excellent gifts. So-o-o-o-o! If you're interested in buying candles for your home and for presents, call Doug Hancock, DA 2-2546 (Doug's president of the outfit!)

Last Sunday several members of the youth group at Holy Trinity gathered to make their candles. They were Linda Matson, Doug Hancock, Jeep Jones, Beth Wyatt, Jay Wyatt, Ray Wyatt, George Brown, Jan Osborn, Margaret Matthews and Phil Roberts.

Also on the agenda for the youth group last week was final plans for the church ski trip. Jeep Jones introduced Karl Kosling, who's in charge of the snow tour. Karl showed some exciting ski movies after the potluck dinner. After the meeting Doug Hancock told the group of a caroling expedition on which it will go December 21. The singers will journey to Linda Matson's for refreshments afterwards.

MOVIE

The last in a series of movies for teens is being shown at the Burgess gym on Saturday afternoon at 1:30. Put on by a non-profit organization, Contemporary Cinema, the movies are selected especially for boys and girls from the ages of 9-19. This Saturday "Fiddle De Dee," "Van Meegren's Faked Vermeers," and "Helen Keller in Her tSory" are being presented. On the 28th there will be two films, "Romance of Transportation" and "The Stone Flower."

Tomorrow Castilleja will stage its annual Christmas pageant, a story about a poor juggler and Mary. Suzie Hale is portraying the juggler. Others included in the cast are Gail Hamilton, Judy Gibbs, Karen Harms, Ann Giere and Stanley Good.

Two former Castilleja students, Sue Sterling and Sally Wade, will be home from Westover School for vacation. Flying back for the holidays are these boys—Ben Paige, Bill Wreden, Dave Packard and Lou Lenzen. The four of them attend school at Exeter in the east.

Crystal Springs School will hold its holiday dance this week. Among the girls who've been working on it are Sue Magneson, Marina Romanov, Judy Flood and Ann Mitchell. The school is also planning with a fashion show, which is scheduled for some time in January.

At Roger Patterson's home were these M-Aites who watched color TV and danced: Kathy Harried, Keith Jones, Sue Grider, Ward Hensil, Jane Benidt, Lynn Vandervoort, Cheryl Barnes, Judy Burton, Gerry Varty, Sue Lampman, John Potter, Mike Mallin, Linda Skatt, Randy Nundt, Carol Leihy and Butch Gordon.

My, but Gary Holtum was surprised when a group of his friends "dropped in" for his 16th birthday. Gary was completely unaware that any celebration had been planned! Dancing followed an Italian-style dinner served to Gary's "guests," who were Wendy Pratt, Kim Golden, John Splitorff, Jack Stagner, Linda Nichols, Stu Colpitts and Carolyn Somers.

TEEN FAVORITES

In records—"Hey, Little Girl" and "Raunchy."

In sayings — At Castilleja it's "bungle," which means "goof" or "muff!"

One freshman at M-A offered the following:

"Use your head; it's the little things that count!"

"Be sure brain is engaged before putting mouth in gear!"

And of course, the most popular saying this week is . . .

"MERRY CHRISTMAS TO YOU ALL!"

PEO Bureau Sets Luncheon

The Peninsula Reciprocity Bureau of the PEO Sisterhood has extended an invitation to all unaffiliated members to attend a luncheon on Friday, January 3, at the Marie Antoinette Inn, Menlo Park.

Luncheon will be served at 12:30 p.m. and reservations, for $1.85 must be made by Monday, December 30, with Mrs. R. C. Diebenkorn 18 Belleau avenue, Atherton, EM 6-7293.

The program on "Storytelling" will be given by Miss Josephine Marshall, a member of Chapter DC, Palo Alto.

WCTU Slates Yule Gathering

Members of the Menlo-Atherton Branch of the Women's Christian Temperance Union will meet next Thursday, December 26, at the home of the president, Mrs. Dud Robideaux, 30 Campo Bello avenue, Menlo Park.

The meeting will begin at 7:30 p.m. and will feature a Christmas program. There will be several speakers, holiday carols and an exchange of small gifts.

All local residents interested in attending this meeting are cordially invited.

Troop 45 Makes Yule Favors

Twelve members of Menlo Park Girl Scout Troop 45 met at the home of their leader, Mrs. E. L. Tagwerker, recently to make nut cups and other favors to be used for table decorations at the Menlo Park Veterans' Hospital on Christmas Day.

The troop, which has as co-leaders, Mrs. David Harris and Mrs. W. J. Warner ,includes the following members:

Christine Albachten, Mary Jane Atkinson, Pat Bane, Annette Cook, Cecelia Eastman, Pamela Eldred, Terry Fiorini, Tracy Harris, Diane Mas, Nicki Schwartz, Mary Carol Tagwerker and Janet Warner.

Clothing Projects:

W-A 4-H Club Active

How to use a needle and thread . . . how to choose practical and becoming ready-made garments . . . how to care for clothing.

These have been the aims of some 170 San Mateo County girls enrolled in 4-H clothing projects, including the Woodside-Atherton 4-H Club, who are closing another year of activities.

According to University of California Home Advisor, Katherine Garnock, the underlying goal of the program is to develop a liking for sewing and an interest in all aspects of clothing as it relates to the girls' appearance and everyday activities.

W-A CLUB

Mrs. Charles Strong of Woodside, leader for the Woodside-Atherton 4-H Club, has played a key role in the success of the program during the past three years. Working with her are Mrs. L. H. Warrington of Atherton and Mrs. Arne Jensen of Redwood City.

Under the leadership of these three women, Woodside 4-H'ers such as Nina Krell, Carol Cornelius and Sharon Randel have made outstanding records in the field of clothing.

At the county dress revue last May, members modelled garments made in 4-H clothing projects and received ribbons in competition with all county 4-H'ers. Each year, a county winner is selected to represent San Mateo County at the State 4-H convention. The honor this year went to Sharon Randel, 17, with Nina Krell named county alternate dress revue winner from among the 80 participants.

GUIDE MEMBERS

In guiding the club members, leaders keep in mind that this is a clothing project rather than a sewing project. Sewing skills and the art of clothing construction are very important aspects of the program.

In addition, the field covers such subjects as wardrobe inventory and planning, ready-made clothing and accessory selection, learning to dress appropriately and healthfully, and learning to look one's best by developing poise, grace, correct posture, and good grooming habits.

Younger members, aged 10 and 11, have a short span of interest and are more easily discouraged with projects that take a long time to complete. For these reasons, the beginning 4-H clothing projects teach sewing skills by using easy-to-handle fabrics, simple patterns, and an organized method of sewing.

PROGRESS

As the girl progresses and goes on to advanced projects she applies the same organized and efficient methods of sewing that she used as a beginner, learning how to handle different types of fabric and more advanced fitting and finishing details.

From the first year in 4-H club work on, the youngster is trained to select colors, fabrics, and styles suitable to her own personality and needs.

Club members are guided by volunteer adult clothing project leaders, without whom the 4-H program could not function. Leaders are recruited and trained by Home Advisor Katherine Garnock .

STYLE INFO

By means of illustrative materials, demonstrations, training work shops, and club visits, she transmits up-to-date information on style trends, new fabrics, clothing construction, and teaching methods from the University of California Agricultural Extension Service to the local leaders.

Another field of competition the girls enjoy is the clothing exhibit at the San Mateo County Fair. This year 90 girls entered a total of 165 garments to be viewed by thousands of fairgoers.

Of the blue ribbon winners, 20 articles were sent on to the California State Fair. Here ,in stiff competition with highly rated clothing exhibits from 4-H'ers all over California, San Mateo County girls collected a top record of 17 first, and three second place awards.

Sixteen local clothing leaders directed 170 girls during the 1956-57 club year. On hand for 1957-58 are 22 leaders ready to help more than 180 youngsters develop a real liking for sewing and a knowledge of what goes into the "well-dressed" look.

Adult Sewing Courses Set For EPA Area

Many a father and son will be proudly happy this Christmas with gifts from mother, and especially those whose wives and mothers have been a part of the Menlo-Atherton adult education sewing classes held in East Palo Alto.

The reason?

According to Mrs. Henry Garton, who instructs the women, her two classes this quarter have done outstanding work, making everything from men's and boys' shirts to pajamas; from formal dresses to casuals. Little sister will also be delighted, Mrs. Garton adds, for many of her students have been dressing dolls and making cushions.

The new quarter will start January 6. Those wishing to take sewing, beginning or advanced, are invited to come to the fellowship hall of the East Palo Alto Community church on Monday afternoon, January 6 between 1 and 4 and register, or Tuesday morning, January 7, between the hours of 9 and 12. There are several openings in the Monday afternoon classes, she says.

The winter quarter ends just before Easter, but the course continues until school is out in June.

Women attending the classes learn not only the rudiments of sewing, but how to put finishing touches that give garments a "dressmaker look", Mrs. Garton concludes.

ELIZABETH MOSHER, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Austin Mosher of Menlo Park, sang the role of "Felice" last weekend when the University of Southern California School of Music presented the West Coast premiere of Wolf-Ferrari's comic opera "School for Fathers."

* * *

We are of the general opinion that men are frequently difficult to buy for . . . but we found a very elegant item that is not only handsome but very useful. Seifer's Leather Shop is featuring Italian jewelry cases lined in beautiful suede with compartments for cufflinks, tie clasps and other jewelry for the masculine set. The outside of the cases are in antique cowhide, some with simple gold tooled detail . . . others with a more ornate gold tooled design. These good looking cases, wrapped in a pretty package, will be a welcome gift for the "man of the hour" . . . the cases are priced from $11.50 to $17.50.

* * *

Under the heading of "specially priced for Christmas gifts" are those very beautiful and truly handsome Ebba von Eckerman skirts handwoven in Ripsa, Sweden. Dorel's has a wide selection of these skirts . . . in the straight or full cut . . . and has marked them from $35 to $49.95 down to $26.95 and $29.95, especially for the holidays. The Ebba von Eckerman duffle coats, too, are marked especially for this season. You'll be proud to own either a skirt or a coat, or both . . . and they are exclusive here on the Peninsula at Dorel's (on the west coast, you'll see them only in Menlo Park, San Francisco and Seattle.) They are so rich looking.

* * *

Notes on things to do between now and next Wednesday:

'Messiah' Given by Sixth Graders

By FREDONE NIELSEN

Three programs of selections from the "Messiah" were presented at Belle Haven, Brentwood and Kavanaugh schools for all the sixth grade students of the Ravenswood City School District.

Guest soloists were Mrs. Joan Eagle, a graduate of UCLA in music and a prominent soloist in this area; Mrs. Nancy Linden, a concert artist who has recently moved to our area and is fast gaining prominence as a favorite soloist; Miss Carol Anderson, a fifth grade teacher at Brentwood who has a beautiful contralto voice; Don Pederson, vice-principal of Kavanaugh school, who often sings tenor solos for different churches; Eugene Small, one of the district's instrumental teachers, who is a gifted baritone.

The accompanists were Mrs. Fredone Nielsen and Kay Raney of the district music dejartment.

The children had had a previous lesson on oratorio and were given an outline story of the message of the Messiah.

The program included the tenor recitative and aria: "Comfort Ye, My People", "Every Valley Shall be Exalted"; bass, "But Who May Abide the Day of His Coming," and "Thus Saith the Lord"; soprano aria, "Rejoice Greatly, O Daughter of Jerusalem." "Come Unto Him" and "How Beautiful are the Feet", sung by Mrs. Linden; the two most familiar choruses, "And the Glory of the Lord" and the "Hallelujah Chorus", George Carpenter and Mrs. Joanne Ford, teachers at Kavanaugh, augmented the soloists for these choruses.

The students, teachers and staff members wish to express sincere appreciation for the excellent performance of the soloists and for their graciousness in giving so freely of their time and talent.

Kavanaugh Youngsters Make Decor

Santa's sleigh, spilling with presents, pulled by dancing reindeer, with Santa waiting at the Christmas tree is the gigantic mural covering the kindergarten windows at Kavanaugh School.

The mural is a production of kindergarteners in Mrs. Loverill Berry's and Mrs. Marion Randolph's morning and afternoon classes and it is just an indication of the delightful decorations to be found within the rooms for this Christmas season.

JOINT ENDEAVOR

Mrs. Berry's pupils painted Santa, and the reindeer while the presents and the reindeer were done by Mrs. Randolph's boys and girls.

Yesterday, after witnessing a program given jointly by the four classes, parents who stepped inside Mrs. Berry's room were impressed by the fireplace hung with paper stockings made by their children. The stockings were decorated with cut-outs from greeting cards and identified by individual names. Hanging around the room were mobile Santas made from paper plates and on one bulletin board a modernistic Christmas tree was made from small aluminum foil pie pans.

Parents of Mrs. Randolph's youngsters were most impressed with their Christmas tree. Cut out by the teacher, it was sponge painted green by the children, who then decorated it with blue clay dough cookies sparkling with glitter, paper candy canes and Santas cut from paper candy wrappers.

WISHING TREE

Under the tree they found what their child wants most for Christmas—each child made a drawing of the gift he would like to find under the tree on the morning of December 25. The children named their tree "The Wishing Tree". Paper chains completed the decorations and Santa mobiles danced around the room.

The kindergarten program, given twice yesterday, in Kavanaugh School multi-purpose room for parents, was entitled "Under the Christmas Tree". The children played the parts of toys awakening at midnight to have a party. Dolls danced and toy soldiers marched. Stuffed animals performed. Children sang several songs including "Rudolph, the Red Nosed Reindeer" and "We wish you a Merry Christmas." In all, 120 children took part.

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE

$16,950 - UNBELIEVABLE—BUT TRUE - $1,250 Down
4 Bedrooms — 2 Baths
To describe this home of charm and character would take pages of adjectives. Let it suffice to say that it's a two-story older home with space galore, in a heavily wooded close-in Los Altos area and that it couldn't possibly be duplicated at anywhere near the sales price. It's a distress sale—the owners already have another house. Look out of any window and you'll see trees—enter the front door and you'll find a charming living room—a separate dining room—sun-flooded kitchen. Two of the bedrooms are downstairs—2 up. It's a whale of a bargain in space, location and terms—don't fail to see it.
